Unison members outside Cannock Chase Hospital on Wednesday morning

Day of disruption as public sector workers strike

TEACHERS, council workers, NHS staff and civil servants across Staffordshire took part in the biggest strike for more than 30 years yesterday (Wednesday).

The 24-hour walkout plunged working parents into chaos as hundreds of schools were closed, forcing them to make alternative arrangements for childcare or take the day off work.

Workers were on picket lines outside hospitals, universities and colleges to protest over planned changes to public sector pensions that will make them retire later and contribute more.

Picket lines were set up at Cannock Chase Hospital and Cannock JobCentre. Eight out of 10 workers at the JobCentre in Beecroft Road joined the strike.

Jason Ferraby, branch secretary of the Public and Commercial Services Union for South

Staffordshire, said: "This is about the pensions of our children. The feeling here is very solid."

Bosses at Staffordshire County Council were prioritising social services for "vulnerable residents" saying other services would run "as normal where possible".

Waste

Hednesford library was shut while Lichfield mobile library was not running.

Bosses warned of disruptions to bin collections with garden and food waste bins not being collected in Cannock Chase, Chase Leisure Centre in Cannock, Rugeley Leisure Centre and the Museum of Cannock Chase in Hednesford were all open as usual.

At Stafford and Cannock Chase Hospitals non-urgent services were reduced with patients contacted in advance. Ambulance staff were still dealing with emergency calls but West Midlands Ambulance Service pleaded with people to use 999 "sparingly" because of walkouts.

Staffordshire Police was also hit as civilian workers walked out. Community Support Officers, control room operators, intelligence staff, forensics staff, administrative staff and front desk workers were among those taking part.

Michael Shepherd, Unison branch secretary, said: "The most scandalous element of the ministers' proposals is that the additional money we are being asked to pay will not go into the pension fund. How can this be reasonable?"

"This is a difficult dispute for us. As our grievances are not with Staffordshire Police but with Government ministers, we are left with no other choice than to join the day of action."

HOTLINE SET UP ON A&E CLOSURE

CAMPAIGNERS have set up a hotline aimed at protecting the future of accident and emergency services for Cannock patients.

The Support Stafford Hospital group launched the service today (Thursday) – the day the hospital closes its A&E department overnight for a three-month period.

The hotline will allow people to log any problems with the hospital's bosses.

The decision to close overnight between 10pm and 8am has heightened fears the service may be lost altogether and a petition calling for A&E at the hospital to be protected has been signed by more than 10,000 people.

Support Stafford Hospital, launched just two weeks ago, has teamed up with Staffordshire Local Involvement Network (LINk) to set up the line.

Cheryl Porter, aged 48, who heads Support Stafford Hospital, said: "People's messages are going to get right to the top, so they will be able to have their say on any experiences they have. I think it is a wonderful idea and it shows the community working together."

LINk manager Jackie Owen said LINk's website, www.staffordshire

link.org.uk, will also have a new section where people can log their experiences.

She said: "We will have the phone manned certainly throughout the day, and then as much as we can, and if nobody does answer we will have an answering service to make sure everyone's point of view is heard."

"We hope that it will give people a voice and it will run throughout the closure process where people will be able to say what has happened to them, good or bad."

Last weekend Support Stafford Hospital held a public meeting that attracted more than 100 people to hear about the latest plans for A&E. The campaign group co-founder Karen Howell said: "Over the past few years Stafford Hospital has been highlighted again and again and caused a lot of concern for us."

Mrs Howell added that something "needs to be done" to ensure more positive stories reach the public.

Two further community meetings were announced for January 22 in Cannock, and another meeting in Stafford on January 27 at the Gatehouse Theatre. The number to phone will be 01785 887 984.

Festive fundraiser is a model project

Miss Teen Earth beauty contest winners Chloe Adcock, left, and Stevie Jones promote the Christmas Project in aid of Birmingham Children's Hospital

TWO CANNOCK beauty queens have put their new-found status to good use by helping to promote a Christmas charity event.

Fifteen-year-old Stevie Jones – Miss Teen Earth Staffordshire 2011 – and friend Chloe Adcock, 17, the current Miss Teen Earth Cannock, donated their sashes in the town centre last week to raise awareness of Cannock's Christmas Project.

The charity event is on December 10 from 6.30pm at the Pied Piper pub, in Pye Green Road. It includes live music as well as an appearance from Father Christmas and the Pedmore Panthers cheerleaders.

Tickets are £3. Money will go to Birmingham Children's Hospital and Stevie's mum Michelle Williams said she was proud of the two girls.

"I think it's inspirational that two youngsters are putting in so much effort to make someone else's life happier," she added.

Contest to find a festive funny

CANNOCK residents who fancy themselves as a bit of a joker are being put to the test in a cracker of a competition.

Staff at Longford House Beefeater Grill, at Watling Street, have launched a search to find the funniest Christmas cracker joke for 2011.

Winning entrants will have the honour of seeing their festive funny printed in a special set of limited edition crackers.

Beefeater Grill will be picking the best six jokes to be included in the crackers, while winners will also be able to win a festive family meal in the restaurant.

Spokesman Amanda Barnet said: "At Beefeater Grill we hope to find a cracking joke to make us all laugh and we look forward to welcoming everyone to sample our new festive menus this Christmas."

Enter online at www.beefeatergrill.co.uk/cracker. The closing date is December 10.

Shop's chance to win hamper

A LUCKY shopper could win a Christmas hamper as part of a Hednesford store's festive celebrations.

B&M Bargains, on Market Street, are marking the town's Christmas lights switch on with a special competition which opens tomorrow (Friday).

Entry forms should be posted in the box in the toy department for a chance to take home a hamper of treats from across the store.

Staff will also be treating customers to some traditional carols and collecting donations for Macmillan.

The store's management team has decided to contribute all of their wages from the evening of the lights switch-on to the fund.

Rooting for help

VOLUNTEERS are needed for a bit of heavy lifting at Birches Valley Forest Centre this weekend.

Midlands Air Ambulance has teamed up with the centre and needs people to help carry trees to visitors' cars in both Saturday (December 3) and Sunday.

Anyone who can spare a few hours should call 0800 840 2040.

Jail term as lives 'made a misery'

A JOBLESS man has been sentenced to 14 weeks in jail after making his elderly neighbours' lives a misery.

Gregory Howell, aged 25, had earlier pleaded guilty to harassment without violence after shouting abuse, Howell, who used to live in Streets Lane, Great Wyrley, shouted swear words and abuse from the window of his apartment at his elderly and frail neighbours and their relatives who came to visit, Cannock Magistrates Court heard.

Sonia Durrant-Clarke, prosecuting, said Howell, who had since moved to Surrey Close, Rumer Hill, Cannock, had harassed Rita Stanton, aged 81, and daughter Jane Sloan, along with 79-year-old neighbour Nancy Frost between January 2010 and October this year.

Grandson

The court heard he shouted abusive language at Jane Sloan, who visited her mother three times a day, and played loud music late at night and early in the morning.

She said when Jane Sloan complained, Howell threatened her family members.

His grandson was left too frightened to visit. Defending Glenn Cook said Howell had voluntarily left the flat and had since turned his life around. He had written individual letters to the women expressing his regret and had made progress improving his life by working with an employment agency on interview techniques and writing up his CV.

Army band to perform

CAROLS performed by the Salvation Army band will form the centrepiece of a history group's Christmas special next week.

The band is performing to members of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society at a festive get-together on Thursday (December 8).

The event takes place at the Salem, in High Street, from 7.30pm.

Admission is £1 including refreshments and non-members are welcome.

Clever Trevor takes mic to serenade elderly residents

CARE home residents are being serenaded by a Burntwood man who has been given a 'new lease of life' as a singer.

Trevor Santini, aged 53, of Two Oaks Avenue, has held down many jobs over the years, starting out baking doughnuts for Allied Bakeries and going on to run a number of small businesses from construction to estate agency.

Now, after launching a new career, he said: "It's a new lease of life. I've always been an entertainer."

From a young age, Trevor played drums with a band known as Metallic Spiral, covering hits from rock legends such as Black Sabbath.

Nowadays he is much more relaxed sticking to tracks from the likes of Westlife and Michael Buble.

Mr Santini is particularly popular with the older audience having sung at Royal British Legion Clubs and a number of nursing homes, where he performs alongside Elvis impersonator Karl Stafford.

Lights

Norma Morrison, activities co-ordinator at Parkland Court, in Bloxwich, where Trevor performed last week, said: "He went down really well, there were one or two people up and dancing."

Trevor's next gig will be at the switching-on of the Rugeley lights tomorrow night (Friday).

Hero Pc on the march as recovery continues

FIVE years after being shot and left for dead while on duty, policeman Geoff King proved he was on the road to recovery by speed marching 26 miles through the streets of central London in aid of wounded troops and their families.

The 38-year-old former Royal Marine, from Rugeley, told of his pride in completing the gruelling marathon and the poignancy of it taking place one day after the anniversary of his terrifying brush with death.

The West Midlands force officer said: "I was shot on a Saturday morning and, by coincidence, the march was also on a Saturday morning."

"It was fitting that I was marching around London raising money for Marines who had been shot and wounded while serving on the frontline almost five years to the day after being left for dead and bleeding in a street in Wolverhampton."

"That was the main reason I took part and the coincidence in the dates made it even more emotional for me."

Hiding

"The incident during which I was shot was on my mind throughout the march. I knew that it would take place around the anniversary of my shooting when I volunteered to take part although I did not know there would be such symmetry between the two dates."

Gangster Marcus Bailey was just 2ft away from Pc King when he fired three times at the unarmed officer who had chased him across Penn Road from the Bromford Rise flats.

The policeman was hit twice in the upper body and shoulder and lost six and a half points of blood. Doctors said he was within two minutes of dying on November 11, 2006.

Bailey, aged 25, was later found hiding in a nearby bin and ordered to serve at least 15 years after being jailed for life for attempted murder.

Pc King now works in the intelligence department of Bloxwich police station because he is unable to perform any duties that might see him confront an offender.

He said: "I am still suffering post traumatic stress and am restricted in the role I can play within the police. That is likely to remain the case for the foreseeable future."

"Physically I have made a 99 per cent recovery although I still suffer numbness in my left arm. The main scars are mental."

"I am more or less back to normal but there have still been the occasional blips. Those normally happened around the date of the shooting but the anniversary did not have such a profound effect on me this year."

I am sure that this was because of my involvement in the march. It was a really proud moment when I completed it. I was delighted that something so worthwhile could have come from something so bad. After coming through this ordeal I wanted to do everything I could to help others to cope with similar experiences.

"Being shot myself helped me to empathise with the plight of wounded troops. I can understand not only the physical impact but also the possible mental side effects."

Pc King and Pc Karl Ansell, both of the Graiseley neighbourhood policing team in Wolverhampton, were investigating a rise in car crime in the area when gunned down. The wounded officer said of the moment Bailey shot him: "He raised his right arm. I had not even seen the gun at first. He pointed it straight at my head and pulled the trigger."

Amazingly, the bullet missed him. "When the gun went off - I had closed my eyes - I opened them again. I could see the look of disappointment on his face. I thought he could not believe he had missed."

He was then hit by the two further shots and recalled: "I remember seeing blood spurting out from my chest and shouted on the radio that I had been shot."

Pc King joined West Midlands Police in 1999 after serving for nine years with the Royal Marines. He belongs to Commando 999 whose members have served with both that military unit and the emergency services.

He took part in the Speedmarch marathon with around 100 comrades, and was part of the 40-strong hard core who completed the full distance to raise more than £65,000 for the Royal Marine Association.

Recovery

They passed a host of world famous landmarks including Buckingham Palace, Regent Street, Big Ben and The Mall while also making a brief appearance at Downing Street, where they were greeted by Home Secretary Theresa May and head of the Royal Navy, Admiral Mark Stanhope.

The march took four hours 45 minutes including the quarter-hour stop in Downing Street.

Pc King, whose training for the event had been hampered by shin splints, reveals: "It was a tough challenge but very rewarding."

"We saw some fantastic sights and had a brilliant reaction from the public. I really began to feel it after 22 miles but was determined to finish. There was no way I was going to fail."

Pc King personally raised more than £800, with more money still coming in. He says: "I would like to thank all my friends and family for their tremendous support. I cannot wait until next year when we will do it all again."

Donations can still be made to Speedmarch through www.bmycharity.com/geoffking

Nature reserve query by MP

SOUTH Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson is to write to the Coal Authority to find out if a section of land near Cannock can become publicly owned with a view to it becoming a nature reserve.

Mr Williamson says a piece of land neighbouring Shool Hill Quarry, in Huntington, measuring 100 acres, has remained unused for decades.

He said he became aware of the land when he became involved in the future of the quarry, which is owned by Stafford property firm Inglewood Investments.

He said: "I am looking at the feasibility of turning this land over to a group of parties who could look at turning it in to a nature reserve."

Future

Mr Williamson said the Coal Authority, which owns the land, had a responsibility for "community gain".

The MP said he would be contacting Inglewood again so people knew what the future held for Shool Hill.

Inglewood Investments attracted a flood of complaints earlier in the year by hosting a controversial scrambling meet-ing at the quarry, but no similar events have been planned since then.

The MP is hoping to host a public meeting with Inglewood, to discuss Shool Hill's future. He said: "We want to take this forward on a positive footing."

News that Inglewood has agreed not to hold further bike events has been welcomed by residents and councillors.

Property is ransacked

THIEVES ransacked a Rugeley home after getting in through the garage.

The break-in happened in Lower Birches Way between 10.30pm on Thursday (November 23) and 7am the next day.

The intruders took three bicycles, an air rifle and two vacuum cleaners.

The cycles stolen are a white Boardman mountain bike, a CTA Aggressor mountain bike which is grey with red writing, and a grey and black Giant mountain bike.

Trouble-hit play area looks set to stay put

A PLAY area blighted by anti-social behaviour looks set to be allowed to stay.

Persimmon Homes has applied for retrospective planning permission for the site in Heath Hayes, despite complaints from residents.

Cannock Chase Council has received 34 letters of objection, from people claiming it attracts trouble and is affecting the value of homes.

Heath Hayes and Wimblebury parish council has branded the play area - located at the centre of the Park Farm residential estate, between Peregrine Way and Pheasant Way - an 'inappropriate development' in a residential area.

Residents claim the play area is unsightly and say there has been ball damage to their homes. They have also reported anti-social behaviour, an increase in litter and noise, and safety concerns about children running in to the road.

Value

Many of the residents want to see the area returned to open land. Resident Darren Matthews said: "I live directly opposite this monstrosity and would never have bought my house if I had known this was to be built."

"I have since tried to sell my house but the estate agent informs me that potential buyers are put off by it, and so I am in a very bad financial situation with regards to the value of my house."

Despite the concerns, council planning officers were recommending approval at a meeting this week. A pre-meeting report states: "Whilst concerns have been raised in respect of anti-social behaviour, noise and litter; these matters can be addressed."

"As such, on balance these matters individually or cumulatively do not outweigh the need for the facility and its usefulness for providing sport

Pupils go back in time to the 1940s

THE fashions and fads of the 1940s were relived by youngsters at a primary school in Cannock.

Youngsters at Gentleshaw Primary wore vintage styles to class and bought Spam and other wartime delights at a make-believe village shop.

At a special assembly, the story behind the symbolic Remembrance poppies was told in a play performed by six and seven-year-old pupils.

The youngsters learned about the era in lessons all term and also held a VE celebration party.

Headteacher Susan Winson said the children - and their parents - had worked hard on the project.

"The clothes were all handmade," she said. "The girls wore floral dresses and little cardies with woolly hats, while the boys had braces on their trousers, and one had a helmet. They did really well."

Staff at the school were also able to borrow a Second World War air raid siren which was sounded in class.

"The children dived under the table as if it were the real thing," said Mrs Winson.

Lights may go down on lottery

THE annual Christmas lights display in Cannock is among the events under threat as the future of the town's lottery hangs in the balance.

Natal Chapman, head of the Cannock Traders Association, says the lottery will be lost unless volunteers come forward to drum up support.

She revealed the festive lights, which are funded by the scheme, could become a thing of the past after this year.

Ms Chapman is making one final push to keep the lottery afloat. It provides vital funds for the traders to organise community events.

She said: "It is important that traders take some responsibility and make an effort to participate."

"If no-one comes forward then the continuation of the Cannock Traders Association and community events may cease.

"We are to hold a discussion in the next few weeks, but our figures are still dwindling and now we are looking for volunteers to help promote it and sell it."

"We need a big push before it is due for renewal at the end of December."

Doubt

The dwindling initiative splits a cashpot between one winner and community projects. In August, the scheme brought in only £178, leaving a cash prize worth £89 and £19 for the community cashpot once the overheads, which include printing the tickets, were taken into consideration.

This year's festive celebrations in the town looked in doubt as the there was not enough money in the pot to fund the festivities.

Britain's Got Talent star Jean Martin offered to switch on the lights for free, which attracted a large crowd.

Jean completed her O-levels at Cannock Technology College and said she did the event for free as a chance to "give back" something to the town.

Ms Chapman said the lack of spending power was a result of not enough people and businesses supporting the lottery.

Cannock Chase Council does not fund or arrange the switch-on events in the district. This is done by the town and parish councils or, in Cannock's case, by the traders.

Anyone who can help Ms Chapman can contact her on 01543 572166.

Opening ahead of schedule

THE new fitness suite at Cannock's new £6.3m sports centre will open in February next year - five months ahead of schedule.

A new reception area will also be completed early as the Chase Leisure Centre takes shape. A new curved roof has finally been completed.

Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust will take control of the authority's sporting facilities and will also run entertainment facilities. It will officially take over in February.

Contractors GF Tomlinson's Ltd, moved on to the site in April.

The full scheme also includes a 200-seat spectator gallery above the swimming pool, a modern changing area, a dance studio, and replaced and upgraded mechanical and electrical services.

The 150-station fitness centre will include dedicated changing facilities. Users will be able to enter through the new reception, instead of the current makeshift entrance at the back of the building.

The new pool will have a moveable floor which will enable it to be split into two for teaching.

The anticipated completion date of July 20 next year will link in with the Olympic opening ceremony.

Discussions are taking place with runner David Moorcroft, from the Olympic Committee, for official bunting to display.

Youths held as window of car smashed

TWO youths have been arrested in a crackdown on anti-social behaviour in Great Wyrley.

The 13 and 16-year-old boys were arrested on Tuesday evening, November 22, after car window was smashed in Anson Road.

The pair were interviewed and released on police bail pending further inquiries.

Neighbourhood officer PC Sean Hinsley, from South Staffordshire Local Policing Team, said: "There have been a spate of incidents on the housing estate recently where objects have been thrown at vehicles or house windows, causing minor damage and annoyance to residents."

"We mounted an operation which led to the arrests, after a stone was thrown at a passing car, causing the window to smash. The car contained a young couple and child who could have been seriously injured."

£36,000 wrongly claimed

A FRAUDSTER claimed more than £36,000 in disability benefits over eight years while he was actually working as a delivery driver, a court was told.

Stafford magistrates heard that Mark Gittings, of Cannock, had told doctors he needed to be cared for by his wife six to seven days a week due to problems with his legs and hip. He also said he needed help getting in and out of bed.

Gittings, of Hawthorne Road, Wimblebury, had been paid thousands of pounds in disability living allowance despite having a job.

The court heard how in 2003 he started working at TNT Delivery.

Miss Claire Beddow, prosecuting, said his job application failed to mention his disabilities. His job involved lots of loading, it was heard.

Gittings, aged 41, admitted a charge of failing to notify change of circumstances to social security. The Department of Work and Pensions said his claims totalled £36,384.80 between April 2003 and May 2011.

In a separate case, John Wilson, of Canford Place, Hednesford Road, Cannock admitted two counts of failing to notify the Department for Work and Pensions of a change in circumstances after he took on a job.

The court heard how the 23-year-old was overpaid in benefits of £2,696.39.

Magistrates ordered a pre-sentence report in both cases and each will be heard at Cannock Magistrates Court tomorrow (Friday).

Residents in bid to solve the mystery

OLDER residents in Cannock are playing detective as they try to find out 'whodunnit'.

Residents at Vine Court, in Bridgton, an extra care scheme for people mainly aged over 55, are taking part in a month of murder mystery-themed activities, including solving a murder and having a talk from police about how to catch killers.

Staff have set up a pretend murder scene with five employees as suspects. Each week residents receive a clue in their newsletter that eliminates a suspect and the person who correctly guesses the killer will win a prize.

Other activities include a short thriller story writing competition, judged by Birmingham-born best selling author Roger John Ellory.

To round off the month, education and leisure officer David Payne has written a murder mystery play which is being performed by The Stafford Players at a special dinner.

David said: "We organise different themed months so there is something for all interests."

Resident Anne Thomas said: "The organised themes and events are a good way of bringing people together."

Collection success

A CANNOCK Remembrance collection has been hailed a success after raising £1,000 for the Royal British Legion and veteran associations.

Policing shake-up to 'go live' in new year

A RADICAL shake-up of policing in Staffordshire in which officers are encouraged to consider "alternatives to arrest" will be rolled out in the south of the county in the new year.

Other changes include police dealing with less serious crimes over the phone instead of attending incidents in person.

The new approach has been piloted in areas of Stoke-on-Trent, Newcastle and the Moorlands and will 'go live' in Cannock, Lichfield, Stafford and South

Staffordshire from January 30. Policies were reviewed following a £480,000 consultation with auditors KPMG.

Community penalties may be imposed instead of arrests. Other options include street bail – where a suspect is arrested and bailed to appear later at a police station – or penalty notices.

It follows a business process review to improve service and reduce costs. Staffordshire Police needs to save £38m by 2015. Deputy Chief Constable Douglas Paxton said the changes had been successful in the north of the county since being introduced in September.

"We've fine-tuned our approach to incident and defendant management, reduced the burden of crime recording and are encouraging greater use of alternatives to arrest where absolutely appropriate," he said.

"The changes will help us maintain our commitment to reduce crime and keep our communities safe." He added:

"Preparations for rolling out the new approach to local policing teams in the south of the county begin this month. We aim to go live on January 30, 2012."

When the new system comes into force residents will be able to seek advice from a police officer over the phone or request an appointment. Officers will still attend emergencies, while call centre staff will use greater "discretion" over which incidents take priority and should be responded to within the 60-minute target.

Sponsorship sought for granite post with peephole Viewing area plan at Hoard discovery site

A VIEWING area overlooking the site where the Staffordshire Hoard was discovered may be created to cater for an influx of tourists following its popular exhibition in the United States.

Campaigners hope to attract sponsorship for a granite post with a peephole to be installed on a plot of land next to where the pieces of gold were discovered near Hammerwich two years ago.

Visitors would be able to peer through it and then train their eyes on the exact spot. Walsall pensioner Brian Stringer thought up the idea, which has the backing of councillors.

Metal detecting enthusiast Terry Herbert, aged 57, of Burntwood, struck gold in 2009 when he found the hoard at Fred Johnson's farm on the Lichfield-Brownhills border.

It is hoped the proposed viewing site on vacant land in Lichfield Road could be a facility for tourists.

If the scheme is given the go-ahead information display boards would be installed and a small car park created.

Mr Stringer, aged 72, of Park Close, Brownhills, said: "It was just an idea which I'm hoping will spark some interest. It's also a way of keeping visitors off the field."

"It would need quite a bit of funding to get it off the ground either from the local councils or a private benefactor."

Collection

"I just think the site should be preserved or else in a few years' time folk will forget where it actually was."

"The collection has generated international interest, but not enough is being done to recognise the local link."

"Just think of the revenue which this area could gain from tourism if we get our act together. It won't be long before some enterprising travel company starts offering visits to the site as part of a tour."

Almost 4,000 Americans flocked to see the hoard in the first nine days of it going on display at the National Geographic Museum in Washington DC.

Brownhills representative Councillor Dave Turner said: "It would be good if some signs were put up at the site."

"It is just over the Walsall border, and lies very close to Brownhills which is sometimes forgotten."

A crafty Christmas on the cards with rangers

RANGERS at Chasewater Country Park will help children craft Christmas decorations next weekend.

The Lichfield District Council employees will be on hand for a festive-themed workshop at Chasewater Innovation Centre on Sunday, December 11, from 11am-2pm.

The rangers will help youngsters complete small table centrepieces, baubles, angels for the top of the tree, as well as birdfeeders in the shape of Christmas puddings.

Ranger Ellen Williams said: "As we're counting down the days to Christmas, we thought making festive decorations would be a fun activity."

"They are sure to brighten up any family home and make great Christmas presents too."

The first decoration costs £1 and each extra decoration costs 50p.

People can contact the Chasewater Country Park rangers on 01543 370607.

The staff and pupils at Great Wyrley Performing Arts School have proudly shown off the new foyer area, which has been given a facelift after the school received a grant.

The £5,372 grant came from Staffordshire County Council's Local Community Fund and the money was spent on creating a new mural, redecorating the room and creating a new space for the school lockers. The Hall Lane school's business

A year of trading is celebrated

SHOP bosses who stop unwanted goods going to landfill have been celebrating a year of trading.

Home Comforts is making a year of the re-use shop, in Power Station Road, Rugeley, being open to the public.

The shop, which is near Rugeley Household Waste and Recycling Centre, opened last November selling pre-owned furniture and bric-a-brac to people across Staffordshire.

In the last 12 months, 939 people have offered items to the shop and 27 tons of reusable furniture have been diverted from landfill.

Walkers get seats boost

EIGHT employees at an electrical company in Cannock have swapped the office for the outdoors.

Electricum Sales Ltd have erected six new benches at the RAF Hednesford Trails, near Cannock Chase.

Electricum Sales Ltd, which is wholly owned by Siemens plc, has its head office at Lakeside Plaza.

The six benches will ensure that walkers can continue to enjoy the conservation and recreation area, which previously suffered from a lack of seating.

Jobs boost after profits surge leads to move Parcel firm looks for overnight success

A THRIVING company is on the move after a surge in business. The transfer will see APC Overnight more than double its workforce.

The firm will move from its Essington warehouse in Warstone Road to a £15m sorting centre at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park, in Cannock.

The move, to a purpose-built 150,000sq ft facility will allow bosses to take on 300 new staff. It currently has 250 employees.

APC, or Alternative Parcels Company Ltd, has prospered in the midst of fierce competition from rivals and has seen its profits shoot up 70 per cent. Bosses say the firm's flexibility has been key to attracting customers from all walks of life while an updated 'wall of shame' to discourage costly errors keeps staff on their toes.

Head of sales and marketing Steve Salt, aged 48, said: "Product wise, we deal with practically everything, from live fish to flowers. It could be literally anything and everything."

Warehouse

The firm has more than 125 depots covering the whole country, specialising in timed delivery. It handles more than one million parcels each month, with the Essington site acting as its main sorting hub. Syed Ziaullah, the firm's 47-year-old operations director, said APC had had to utilise a warehouse in Hawkins Drive, Cannock, to cope with a recent surge in business.

"When we move to Cannock, the changes will be phenomenal," he said. "It will enable twice the capacity in a much more controlled fashion, because we'll have all of the extra space and we'll be making the building look as aesthetically pleasing as possible."

The 'wall of shame' will remain a fixture. At APC's new home, a two-storey office block will be installed. Bosses have submitted plans to Cannock Chase Council and aim to have building work finished by next October.

Smaller packages are collected in shopping trolleys, before workers place them in big tubs, which are then packed off in to lorries

Women hurt as car grab man drives at them

A ROBBER injured two women as he tried to steal one of their cars off a driveway. He then fled in a waiting getaway vehicle.

The offender jumped into the Ford Focus, which had been left running by a 72-year-old woman at 1.15pm on Monday, November 21. She had gone to chat to her friend after parking in the driveway of her home in Burntwood Road, Hammerwich.

The car owner and her 64-year-old friend stood in the way and he reversed into them, before abandoning the car and fleeing in another waiting vehicle - a red or maroon saloon car which sped off along Burntwood Road towards the village post office.

The women suffered minor injuries and were released from hospital hours later.

Two men, aged 40 and 45, were arrested on suspicion of attempted robbery and released on bail.

Investigating officer Insp Jed White said: "Detectives have spoken to numerous witnesses but need to talk with anyone else who saw the car or the offender."

Anyone with information is asked to call Staffordshire Police on 101 quoting incident number 307 of November 21.

Takeaway planned as town pub closes

A RUGELEY pub could become the latest in the town to be consigned to the history books, with a Chinese takeaway set to replace it.

The Pig & Bell, in Market Street, is shut and an application to convert it to a takeaway has been submitted to Cannock Chase Council.

Skipton-based company Fong & Sons Ltd has applied to redevelop the pub, which closed around a year ago.

The Lichfield and Staffordshire branches of Campaign for Real Ale have spoken out about the number of pubs in the town being lost.

The owners of The Prince of Wales, in Rugeley, which is still operating, announced plans last month to sell off some of its car park to JM Homes Ltd.

The firm wants to build nine two-bedroom homes on top of the parking area.

In August this year one of the town's best-known pubs, The Britannia, opened as a veterinary practice, having been boarded up for more than two years. Mike Hawker, secretary of the Heart of Staffordshire Campaign for Real Ale, and Martin Warrillow, a spokesman for the Lichfield, Sutton and Tamworth branch, spoke of their dismay at the decline of the pub trade.

The Pig & Bell, in Market Street, Rugeley

Mr Hawker said: "We always want to see every pub saved, but it is not always possible."

Mr Warrillow said a combination of the smoking ban, beer tax and low supermarket prices were hitting the pub trade.

He said: "It's certainly something that does concern us. Twenty pubs a week are now closing down."

Vacant

Angela Grove, of Cannock Chase Council's planning department, said the proposed change of use would bring a vacant building back to life.

And Chris Green, chairman of Rugeley Traders, said: "It is a good thing that these run down, old pubs are being reopened and used as something else."

"Things inevitably have to change and the shift now in pubs is more family orientated."

MP welcomes rise in number of apprentices

THE number of apprenticeships being taken up in Cannock Chase has more than doubled this year, handing a major boost to the local economy.

Figures released by the Office for National Statistics show a rise of 610 youngsters joining up in the last year, from 580 to 1,190.

Last month, the government announced it would be offering cash bonuses for taking on young apprentices, and they will offer employers with 50 staff or fewer up to £1,500 for taking on an apprentice aged between 16 and 24.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley welcomed the increase in numbers. He said: "This is great news, not just for these individuals, but also for the local economy."

A South Staffordshire College spokesman, where the Cannock Campus offers a fast-tracked advanced apprenticeship programme, said: "Apprenticeships provide the most effective bridgehead between the worlds of education and employment, offering the opportunity to learn valuable practical and business skills, get a qualification and to earn money all at the same time."

Checkout triplets in supermarket job

to the store

SISTERS have left shoppers and co-workers doing double-takes after they landed jobs with the same Tesco store in Cannock

They've spent 21 years doing most things together, now the Roadway triplets are even working for the same supermarket firm.

Kelly, Simone and Stacey live with their mum Elaine in Heath Hayes. They celebrated their 21st birthdays on November 21.

Stacey and Simone both work at their local Tesco superstore at Hayes Way and Kelly is the shift manager of the nearby One Stop shop, which is owned by the supermarket group.

Sleepless

Simone and Stacey were classed as identical as they came from the same egg.

Elaine, aged 51, already had two boys, Craig and Carl, at the time of the triplets' birth. She says the sleepless nights were worth it as the five of them now have an inseparable bond.

Elaine works as a medical secretary at Cannock Chase Hospital. The girls went to Kingsmead Secondary School in Hednesford, after attending Heath Hayes Primary.

Help group restarts after funding boost

Elizabeth Swingwood and grand-daughter Charlotte, from Low Street, Cheslyn Hay

A SUPPORT group for children with undiagnosed conditions has been boosted by Lottery funding.

SWAN – or Syndromes Without a Name – was founded by Liz Swingwood of Great Wyrley in 1999. Mrs Swingwood began the group when her grand-daughter Charlotte was 10-years-old. She has had severe developmental delays but no diagnosis.

Over the following decade, SWAN has provided support and information to numerous families and saw its membership rise to 1,300.

Close links were formed with a number of health and social care professionals in the UK and with similar support groups abroad. But two years ago, Mrs Swingwood, was advised to give up her role because of health problems and lack of support.

Because most SWAN members were parents of children with severe disabilities, there was no-one able to take over. It resulted in the group not operating for the last two years.

Awareness

But now Genetic Alliance UK is taking on the work of SWAN after securing funding from the Big Lottery Fund to employ a full-time co-ordinator for the next five years. As well as acting as a support group, it wants to raise awareness of the undiagnosed genetic conditions.

Mrs Swingwood, aged 70, said: "It's an absolute godsend. We just want to let people know we are here again."

"The condition for Charlotte means she can't walk or talk and has both visual and hearing problems. "She had heart surgery when she was a few weeks old and was born with a hole in her heart."

"We were told her development would be delayed due to heart surgery but there was no development at all."

For more on the work of SWAN, call Mrs Swingwood on 01922 701016 or visit swanuk.wordpress.com

Thanks to all for jumble sale support

WE WOULD like thank all the wonderful readers of The Chronicle for their fantastic support that was shown at the weekend at our charity jumble sale at the Avon Centre, Avon Road.

It was lovely to see so many familiar faces as well as many people who were keen to learn more about Dog A.I.D. and what we do.

Saturday morning got off to a very busy start due to the amount of people eagerly waiting for the doors to be opened. We had shoes, coats, toys and books flying of the shelves and tables quicker than we could have imagined.

We would also like to thank the extremely kind efforts from all of our helpers who set up the room on the Friday night, offered their help over the weekend and again helped to clear up and put everything away on the Sunday evening.

It is only through the much needed help from volunteers that Dog A.I.D. is able to function – both at fundraising events and in the work that we do.

The total raised during the weekend was just over £200 which was a fantastic achievement. This will go a long way in providing more training to our local clients.

We hold training sessions on a Monday afternoon for our local clients and their dogs. Should anyone want to get involved with raising more funds to help us continue with this training then please do contact the office on 01543 839463.

It also goes without saying that without the support from The Avon Centre themselves for allowing us to use the room completely free of charge we would not be able to have raised the amount we did – so a huge big thanks must go them too.

Thank you for advertising the event for us in The Chronicle and thanks again to all the readers who came to support us.

More rights are being taken from employees

I WRITE as someone who deals weekly on issues surrounding employment and the issues it raises.

The recent Conservative/Lib Dem idea to relax the legislation to allow employer to sack employee easy is one step too far.

First we had the regulation to allow employers to take on people on nil-hours contract, that employers do not follow procedure on making staff redundant, to change employees' contracts without telling or consulting them.

Now the government is taking more rights from the employee by using the threat to sack them and not have any protection against it.

This is taking us back hundreds of years where the worker had no right at all and the bosses were allowed to hire and fire at will. Does the government think this is the best way to go?

The worker will have little security in the workplace so they won't buy their houses or spend on the high street, which will have knock-on effect with consumer products and this will again mean more redundancies and the cycle will go on.

Vince Cable should think about what he intends to do because there will come a time when he and the Conservatives will come up for election and all those that they have caused the most misery will repay them in kind.

Plea to area's MP to put constituents first

OUR MP Aidan Burley is reported to be the third highest claimant of expenses, but after claiming so much, the Independent Parliamentary Standards Authority shows that after 426 days in office he has only spent 72 days in Cannock.

Why does he need so much to do so little? As his claims get higher, more and more of his constituents are struggling with the cost of living thanks to increases in VAT, gas, electricity and fuel.

He has now left his constituency home in Heath Hayes which reportedly cost £675 per month rent, and has moved to a new home at a cost of £1,646.67p per month. Now is the time he started putting his constituents before himself.

HELEN OF HEDNESFORD

Unions ought to treat all members the same

WHEN Gordon Brown as chancellor raided the private sector pensions leaving those in the private sector to have to pay more, work longer and receive a reduced pension, the trade union movement – because it was a Labour Government making the decision – took no action whatsoever despite those affected were trade union members.

Now those who work in the public sector with their gold plated, inflation proof, index linked pensions are being told they will have to accept what Gordon Brown imposed on the private sector the trade union movement is crying wolf.

They are also asking the general public, the very same people who had these terms imposed upon them to support their action.

The only reason they are doing what they are doing now is because it is a coalition government of which Labour is not involved. The trade union bosses fail to tell their members that they are not losing any salary, having to work longer, pay more, but are continuing to enjoy all their benefits.

If the public sector workers were to not receiving gold plated, index linked, inflation proof pensions like the private sector there would be a good reason for requesting public support.

They should tell the full truth not just the little bit they want to be told. The trade unions should treat all union members the same not just a select section.

Facilities will be run better and cheaper from 69 miles away

I READ with interest the article on November 24 about Cannock Chase Council's handover of control of its leisure centres, museums and theatres to Wigan Leisure and Culture Trust.

According to the article this organisation will be able to run our local leisure facilities better, cheaper and put in more investment than the current council regime (despite being 69 miles away up the M67).

In the light of this one has to ask what has Councillor Christine Mitchell, the council's culture and sports leader, been doing wrong in the past and when will she be handing in her resignation?

In addition to this, how many of Cannock Chase Council's senior staff will be made redundant now that they no longer have leisure centres, museums and theatres to look after?

Nations to unite for Olympics at school

A CANNOCK school is to host its own Olympics with pupils from nine countries taking part.

Amanda Beard, international link co-ordinator at Bridgetown Primary, has just returned from a visit to Ankara in Turkey along with fellow teacher Sarah Buzzard.

The pair, who travelled thanks to a British Council grant, helped to set up an Olympics-style competition that will take place at the North Street school in 2013.

It will feature youngsters from Turkey, Poland, Slovakia, Hungary, Romania, Ukraine, Greece and Italy.

Mrs Beard said: "The event will include archery, kayaking, swimming and other activities. It came from the other schools wanting us to join them."

"Going to Turkey was really interesting - we got to meet the top education chief in the country."

The school hopes to organise a visit to one of the countries it has links with.

Pirate ship is unveiled

A NEW wooden pirate ship has been constructed at an adventure playground for children with special needs in Cannock.

A team from Stafford's Gap and Banana Republic distribution centre at Primepoint 14 visited the SNAP (Special Needs Adventure Playground) site in Eye Green Road to carry out the work.

The play ship was unveiled for a class of pupils visiting from Rocklands Special School at Lichfield.

Lotto scheme to be revived by traders

A FUNDRAISING lottery that ran into difficulties and folded is to be revived by traders in Hednesford.

Simon Orme, chairman of the Hednesford Traders Association 2011, says a new version should be up and running by January with a raft of changes, including donations to charity, aimed at making it more successful.

The Hednesford Shop Local Lottery scheme ended in October after struggling for months, while a similar initiative in Rugeley has proved more successful.

Under the old system, tickets were sold in the town for £1 and the cash pot at the end of the month was split 50-50 between one winner and community events.

Mr Orme says he hopes the changes that have been introduced will inject some life into the scheme.

He said: "We have applied for a licence and we hope to be up and running from January."

Benefit

Mr Orme said a different charitable organisation would benefit each month from the cashpot and people buying tickets would know in advance who that would be.

He said: "We are looking at a different format, where there will likely be a first, second, and third prize. It will also be a guaranteed cash prize each month."

The traders want people or groups, who feel they would benefit from locally generated lottery cash, to get in touch straight away in preparation for the new initiative. Email secretary@hednesfordtraders.co.uk

The scheme was halted for a month in May due to poor ticket sales, but it was resurrected and back up and running in June.

However, it folded permanently in October when the former Traders' Association was brought to an end.

The organisation was scrapped in the summer after arguments broke out about how the group was being run.

Lupus charity has support of Twitter fan Fry

A FAMILY-RUN charity in Cannock is getting the support of a top celebrity tweeter. Twitter fan Stephen Fry has helped boost the awareness of a rare condition called Lupus by talking about the cause.

The Hibbs Lupus Trust was set up by the Hibbs family, who live in Hednesford, for people in mid-Staffordshire affected by the illness.

Headed by 33-year-old John, who has already worked tirelessly for the West Midlands Lupus Group running marathons and taking part in charity cycle rides, they decided to start their own charity so they could help more people directly in the area.

John's sister Viki was diagnosed with the condition in 2008 and the family, including mum Carol and wife Kate, have been raising money and awareness of the condition.

Mr Fry's tweet was wishing the family luck with setting up the charity and including their contact details and web address.

Mr Hibbs, of Bond Way, said: "We were delighted to receive a tweet from Stephen Fry. It was a real boost to lupus awareness and resulted in hundreds of hits on our website and twitter feeds."

"We also received messages from Sarah Brown and Beverley Knight."

Aid for troops all boxed up by elderly residents

Irene Manley, aged 89, with Sgt Sandy Robertson at Caxton Court

Freda Atkinson with Sgt Sandy Robertson and other RAF Stafford personnel

ELDERLY residents from sheltered housing schemes across the district have done their bit for airmen and women from RAF Stafford who will be spending Christmas in Afghanistan.

Residents from all five of Cannock Chase Council's sheltered housing schemes collected boxes of toiletries which will be shipped to Afghanistan in time for the festive period.

RAF Stafford personnel spent the afternoon at Caxton Court in Cannock to thank residents for their donation and present an RAF plaque. Freda Atkinson, aged 85, has lived at Caxton Court for the last five years. She presented the toiletries to Sgt Sandy Robertson from RAF Stafford's Tactical Supply Wing.

Delighted

She said: "It's so important to support our boys who are serving in Afghanistan. Two of my sons served in the Army and my grandson will be going out to Afghanistan very soon."

"They do such a fantastic job and we've all been very proud to help them. It's been fantastic to see them here."

Sgt Robertson said: "We're all absolutely delighted that the residents have taken the time to recognise what we do and it's been great to come to Caxton Court and thank them personally."

"It's hard getting toiletries out there and they can be really expensive so we're very grateful for this big donation."

Accountancy firm acts after 'isolated' theft

THE head of an accountancy firm where an employee plundered almost £10,000 from a client's accounts said procedures had been tightened.

Jennifer Lloyd, a 39-year-old mother-of-two, of Eagle Close, Cheslyn Hay, stole from the account of engineering firm Perry Castings instead of paying the company's PAYE bill to the Inland Revenue. She wrote out cheques for herself totalling £9,950 and used the money she stole to fund holidays abroad.

Lloyd had been employed by Gilbert & Co accountants, in Essington, and was assigned to manage the account of Perry Castings, of Bank Street, Wolverhampton.

Matt Slater, a partner at Gilbert & Co, said the firm had put in place new internal checks. He said: "The senior team at Gilbert & Co uncovered an act of wrongdoing by a then member of staff. We took immediate and decisive action."

"The incident in question is an isolated one. We abide by our professional associations' best practice guidelines, but have further tightened our procedures and checks internally to prevent any future issues."

Lloyd admitted a charge of fraud and was sentenced to six months jail suspended for two years. She was also ordered to do 200 hours unpaid community work and pay £6,100 compensation to Perry Castings.

Six-figure sum secures library

A SIX-FIGURE sum has been pledged to secure the future of Cheslyn Hay library, which is on the move.

Staffordshire County Council is paying £100,000 for a 25-year lease on the facility, due to open at the refurbished village hall in Pinfold Lane this month.

The new library will replace the service in High Street and county council spokesman Andrew Bill said: "The county council has reached agreement with the parish council, who built and own the building, to lease part of the village hall at a cost of £100,000 over 25 years, which the county council considers good value for money."

A one-storey extension to the village hall will provide an extra 570sq ft of space.

Musicians tune up for charities

MUSICIANS from Bridgtown Concert showband have hit all the right notes and raised £400 in a charity walk and bike ride.

The funds from the event were split between St Giles Hospice and The British Heart Foundation.

Members will be tuning their instruments for a packed schedule of performances in the run up to the festive season.

On Monday, December 5 the band hosts a special Christmas concert at Bridgtown Social Club, Walsall Road, with guest artist Rose Redd and her group.

Tickets are limited and available from Trevor Arblaster on 07538 617745 or musical director Shaun Middleton on 07973 408036.

Back-to-backs are topic of talk

THE back-to-backs of Birmingham were the topic of the talk given at the November meeting by Mac Joseph.

He was himself born in a back-to-back house in Ladywood and is also one of the guides at the Back-to-Backs in Birmingham which is run by the National Trust.

Birmingham, in the 1830s was known as the city of a thousand trades. There was a huge influx of people at this time and the first back-to-back houses were built at this time to accommodate them. Around 20,000 courtyards were built in the 1840s when the average wage was around £1.50 from which rent, education, medical care etc had to be paid.

The houses were known as courts and were really two houses in one. The front house would face the street and cost more in rent. The back house faced the court. The houses were not well-built, having no damp course and the ground was not always level. There were two types – one up, one down and a two up one down.

There was no sewage system and a lot of disease. In 1875, Mayor Joseph Chamberlain had sewage and flush toilets installed and standpipes were also put in.

Despite the awful living conditions there was a huge sense of community which is sadly lacking today. Over time certain improvements were made and by 1918 there were 40,000 such buildings housing 100,000 people.

Families were large in those days. In the 1960s people started to move out but many were rehoused in high rise blocks of flats which killed off the community spirit.

It is possible to still experience the life of those days by visiting the Back-to-Backs in Hurst Street, Birmingham. It is necessary to book a tour on 0121 666 7671. Mac kept everyone enthralled with his talk. He also offers other talks on old Birmingham and can be contacted on 01785 660214.

Refreshments followed and at this week there were three raffle prizes.

Today's meeting (Thursday) is the Christmas social.

Club in discussions with Santa

CANNOCK LIONS

CANNOCK Lions Club joined forces with Sherbrook School to distribute their Harvest Festival food donations from the children.

The donation was split between the local Emergency Larder and Age UK Cannock for housebound, elderly patients discharged from hospital over Christmas.

The Lions donated money to LARF (Life after Rehabilitation Friends) at Cannock Hospital, Burntwood Lions Santa Special and the Swansea miner appeal.

Chase Golf Club held a charity day and split the proceeds between the Lions Club and Newlife.

Cannock Lions also hosted the Zone meeting – at Longford Social Club in which Burton-upon-Trent, Burntwood, Lichfield, Tamworth, Stafford and Rugeley Lions were in attendance – and again agreed to make Staffordshire Young Carers Spring Fling their project this year along with South Staffs Search and Rescue Team.

Discussions are taking place with Santa as the club has started to write personalised letters for him. Cost is £2.50. For more details and order forms contact Beverley on 07764 202 842.

For more about Cannock Lions call 0845 833 4967 or check the club's Facebook Page or website.

Actor tells of a panto dame's art

HEDNESFORD A TOWNSWOMEN

ENTERTAINMENT at November's meeting was provided by retired actor Richard Wescot who talked about the 'art of a pantomime dame'.

Richard gradually transformed himself using clever stage make-up and outrageous costumes and he managed to include the audience in participation.

Jean Tolley brought in some handmade Christmas cards to sell with proceeds going to the charity fund.

December 3 from 10am-1pm will be the date for a coffee morning and Christmas craft sale at 49 Beech Pine Close, Hednesford. The £1 entrance includes refreshments and a raffle ticket. Money raised will be in aid of the charity fund.

The Federation choir will provide seasonal food and entertainment for the Christmas party on December 11.

The festive feast will be at The Orbital, Bridgnorth on December 14.

Pupils cut the ribbon for launch of Co-Op

Jobs boost in town as new store opens

EIGHTEEN jobs have been created with the opening of a foodstore in Rugeley.

Pupils from the town's Chaseview Primary were invited to cut the ribbon to open the Co-Op store at the Pear Tree Centre, on Queensway.

Youngsters have taken part in a poster competition highlighting Midlands Co-Operative Society's Zero to Landfill waste management programme and the winners, as well as being given the chance to open the store, were presented with their prizes by the store manager.

Store Manager, Luke Harris said: "The store is looking great. We have an excellent team in place all excited to get to know our new customers who will hopefully enjoy the benefits of shopping with a true local community retailer.

Services

"Prior to the store launch, Chaseview pupils visited our other Rugeley foodstore to find out more about the Zero to Landfill project which ensures that all of our 174 foodstores no longer send any food waste or packaging to landfill – an industry first.

"To be able to make such a claim is very exciting for us."

He added: "I'm delighted to be able to share our success with the pupils and I hope they found their store visit both informative and fun.

"I had the hard task of judging the Design a Poster competition and was delighted to meet the winners."

Customers were treated to food sampling at last Thursday's opening (November 24).

The store offers everyday essentials, fresh and frozen product ranges, as well as an in-store bakery, newspapers and magazines, cut flowers, a cash machine and services such as Paypoint, Lottery and Payzone. There is also free parking. The store is open every day from 7am-10pm.

Former Soldier Clive Smith from 61 Field Squadron EOD with pupils Vanessa Etherington and David Brown at his former school, Cannock Chase High

Pupils entranced by wounded soldier visit

A WOUNDED soldier who lost both his legs in an explosion in Afghanistan gave a talk to pupils at his former school. Clive Smith, from Hednesford, aged 26, was injured after stepping on an improvised explosive device (IED) in Afghanistan's Helmand Province just over a year ago.

Mitchell Allsopp, who works at the school, Cannock Chase High, invited his friend to speak to the pupils about his experiences and to say how much his comrades appreciate parcel packages.

Mitchell, also 26, said: "I have never seen the students so engaged and captivated. I think it made an impact because it brought the experiences of war close to home for them."

Clive was treated at Birmingham's Queen Elizabeth Hospital 36 hours after the blast. He said he would not be alive without the quick response of his fellow soldiers.

Of the talk, he said: "It's the first time I have done anything like that. It was just a bit of an assembly and the kids seemed impressed."

College's academy bid hailed

A MULTI-MILLION pound academy at South Staffordshire College is being hailed as a "national centre of excellence" before it has even been built.

The planned academy at the Rodbaston Campus will cater for 300 pupils being taught agricultural and environmental studies. It will include a 90-place sixth form and will also feature a new sports hall and new reception.

The scheme will create 14 extra jobs, taking the number of workers employed at the site to 164.

Excellence

Staffordshire County Council chiefs say it will boost prosperity and create jobs. Councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for economic growth and enterprise, said it would be an "established national centre of excellence".

He said: "The rural economy is still significant in Staffordshire. This development will be an established national centre of excellence based on our experience here."

The Department of Education gave the go-ahead for the development last month. College principal Graham Morley said he was "delighted" the Government had backed the academy. He added the bid had been put forward in "direct response" to demand from parents and the industry at large.

"We are absolutely delighted by this news which endorses the quality of learning available at our college," he said.

"It also underlines the opportunities in the rural sector available to the young people studying at Rodbaston."

Walkway

Existing buildings will be demolished to make way for a two-storey, 19,000sq ft teaching block while social and dining blocks, Sanders Hall and Ralph's, will be refurbished. The teaching building will house specialist laboratories, class and sixth form rooms.

A new covered walkway will link the new facilities to the refurbished buildings while other land will be turned into landscape gardens.

A further 26 spaces will be added to the car park.

If approved the scheme could become reality in time to open for the new school year in September 2012

Drop in at festive fair

VISITORS to St Thomas' Church in Huntington can visit Santa's grotto this weekend.

The church is holding its Christmas fair on Saturday (December 3) from 11am to 3pm.

Attractions will also include a variety of stalls, tea, coffee and cakes served throughout, a raffle and biscuit decorating.

Roll up your sleeves plea

DONORS can give blood in Cannock next week.

YOUNGSTERS in Rugeley have been busy making lanterns for the Rugeley town centre parade.

Pupils from Western Springs, Etching Hill, Churchfields, Redbrook Hayes and St Joseph's RC Primary Schools are taking part in the event next Friday (December 9).

From 4.30pm the children will start to assemble in the town centre. At 5pm the children will parade towards Market Square and its nativity scene, where there will be a carol service.

Traders spokesman Angi Cooney said: "The procession will be held through every main street leading to the centre where the groups will meet up."

50-mile cycle challenge aids Macmillan

Vicky's big splash at fundraising ride

A GROUP of novice bike riders made a splash – quite literally – during a 50-mile charity mission.

Ron Richards led 15 friends for seven hours along the West Midlands canal network in September, for his 50th birthday. It also marked the 20th anniversary of his father's death.

Raising money for Macmillan, who supported Ron's father during his battle with cancer, the '50 at 50' bike ride has so far raised more than £3,000.

Vicky Bates, one of the team, even took a dip at the end of course after riding her bike into the water.

Ron said: "The charity means such a lot to me. It is my way of saying thank you to them for the care and support they gave to my dad and mum during a difficult time; they really were fantastic."

"All of the events take a lot of arranging but I have

by SARAH HAZELWOOD

cannockchron@expressandstar.co.uk

really been encouraged to raise even more money in the future for other worthy charities.

"The bike ride was a huge success, it was great to have my friends there supporting me and I really appreciate all those who have donated to help us more than double our initial target of £1,500."

With the help of his friends, Ron has also hosted a series of quiz nights, the latest at Hawkins Sports & Social Club, in Coppice Lane, Cheslyn Hay, which raised a further £200.

Ron, of Alumwell, Walsall, hopes to hit £4,000 by the end of the year. Visit www.justgiving.com/ronaldrichards to donate to the fund.

Organist lands BB gig

BRITAIN'S Got Talent star Jean Martyn has secured a regular slot on the next series of Celebrity Big Brother. The organist and former Cannock Chase High music teacher announced the news as she turned on the Christmas lights in her home village of Brewood on Sunday night (November 27).

She will serenade the evicted contestants as they leave the infamous house. Jean played the theme for the live Big Brother final on November 11. The new series starts in January.

Council in bid to cut homeless

COUNCIL bosses in Cannock want to drive down the number of homeless people living on the streets and are considering converting run-down council flats to create shared accommodation.

Cannock Chase Council says there is a shortage of shared properties across the district and the authority's cabinet is now looking at ways of boosting permanent and short-term shared properties for young people. One idea is centred on Chads Moor, where there are plans to convert three two-bedroom flats on the Moss Road estate. Council spokesman Alistair Smith said: "In theory it could start early next year, we're currently looking at the feasibility of it."

A study by the council as part of its Homeless Strategy for 2011-2016, has shown that in July this year, at least 10 people were sleeping rough, 24 people were 'sofa surfing', with 14 more people considered 'at risk' of homelessness but currently staying in an institution or with family friends.

Great Dane's worth his weight in gold

Liverpool legend Jan Molby with fans at the Barns, in Huntingdon

LIVERPOOL legend Jan Molby lit up a sporting dinner in Cannock last week.

The former Danish international, who led Kidderminster Harriers into the Football League, enthralled fans at the Barns Hotel, Bar and Restaurant in Huntingdon.

He entertained at the sell-out audience with his charismatic tales of life as a top flight player with Dutch giants Ajax and at Liverpool during the team's 1980s heyday. The Great Dane spent 12 glorious years at Anfield and has made his home not far away in Chester. He has even perfected the scout dialect and displays the same sharp wit.

Molby listened to fans' thoughts and opinions and stayed long after the event had ended to continue to chat about life as a Liverpool fan and their chances of success once more under Kenny Dalglish.

When Molby took to the floor at the Cocksparrow Lane venue's sporting dinner, he spoke about playing with the great Johan Cruyff while at Ajax and labelled the Dutch superstar the second greatest player of all time. Before a league match in 1983 against FC Groningen Cruyff informed Molby and the rest of the team that he was making the move to Ajax' bitter rivals Feyenoord following a break down in contract talks.

News of the move broke out during the game and fans reacted by rioting and ripping up the seats. The players went to pieces and the game ended 5-5. In Cruyff's only season at Feyenoord, they won the league and cup double.

Hat-trick

Molby made his move to Liverpool aged 20 in 1984 following a successful two year spell at Ajax. And, despite being constantly ribbed over his weight, Molby was highly regarded as one of the best passers of his generation.

He made 218 appearances for Liverpool, scoring 44 goals and was the first in the top flight to score a hat-trick of penalties.

At Anfield, he won two league titles and two FA Cups including the double in 1986. He won 33 caps for Denmark.

While fans tucked into a three course meal Molby said he had no plans to move back into management after a rollercoaster ride in the past. Following a stint as Swansea boss he joined Conference side Kidderminster in 1999 and they won promoted to the League in his first season.

Hull City came calling but internal rows caused his stint to be brief. He took up his final tenure as manager back at Harriers in 2003 but his reign was not successful this time and he resigned a year later.

He now divides his time between after-dinner speaking, often with his best pal Ian Rush and commenting on football for Danish TV. He also still keeps himself fit playing for Liverpool on the Legends six-a-side tour.

With my own side struggling at Wednesday night's Cannock World of Sport six-a-side league, I requested his services. As he and I are of similar build I still think there would be enough room on the pitch for us both. The Great Dane said he would mull the offer over and "get back to me."

I doubt he will call but Jan Molby leaves behind great memories of a night with one of the true legends and gentleman of English football.

Soldiers are celebrating return home

SOLDIERS from 3rd Battalion The Mercian Regiment have been celebrating their return from Afghanistan.

A visit to Stafford on Sunday (December 27) was the second of seven parades taking place across the region and the residents made sure the 400 soldiers felt welcome.

One of the soldiers honoured was Private Daniel Aston, 19, from Cannock, who was based in Khar Nikah.

The former Cannock Chase High pupil said he had enjoyed the parade and it was nice to be back home among his friends and family.

He said: "I've seen some people I know and I have spoken to some people from a charity which sent boxes out to me - I've enjoyed it."

Pte Aston is likely to be going back in two years time, but right now his proud mum Juliet Millward, is glad to have her son home.

She said: "I heard from him about once a week, depending on where he was and the internet access, but they always say no news is good news."

Glad

"You do worry, but you can't help it. I'm very proud of him and he's my only child."

Like many of the other soldiers, Pte Aston will soon be heading back to his German base in Fallingb., but he is glad to be home in the run up to Christmas.

At the forefront of all soldiers' minds would have been Pte Gareth Bellingham, aged 22, from Stoke.

He was the sole fatality suffered by the Battalion during the tour, when he was killed in action on June 18 in Helmand Province.

With his medal is Private Daniel Aston, aged 19 from Cannock and his mother Juliet Millward, 40

Top apprentice title for young engineer

AN apprentice engineer from Breerton has fixed himself a bright future after bagging three awards for excellence.

Jamie Nutter, aged 19, is now working as an electronic technician at a science facility in Oxfordshire, after graduating from the advanced apprenticeship scheme at Rutherford Appleton Laboratory (RAL).

The former pupil of Hagley Park Sports College, Rugeley, picked up the Alfie Phillips award for consistently good placement reports, the Joe Hoskins award for helping others in their training and the top accolade crowning him as one of two apprentices of the year.

Jamie said: "This is an excellent way to end my apprenticeship and I'm honoured to be given these awards."

"It's with thanks to my supervisors and mentors, everyone has been so helpful from day one. I've enjoyed every moment and have picked up lots of important skills along the way, not to mention making some really good friends for life."

Trained

The advanced engineering apprenticeship scheme is run by the Science and Technology Facilities Council and supported by Diamond Light Source, the UK's national synchrotron facility, offering vital skills and experience to get work in the engineering field.

Head of Engineering at the Diamond synchrotron Jim Kay said: "Every day we rely on trained technical people to keep our facility operational and many of our current employees have come up through doing apprenticeships."

The four year advanced engineering apprenticeship scheme at RAL offers school and college-leavers training in electrical, electronic and mechanical engineering.

Applications are received every March selecting successful candidates to start their foundation year at college in the following September. Work placements and internships are also available. For more details, visit www.stfc.ac.uk/About+STFC/24595.aspx

Carols to be sung at wildlife trust HQ

CHRISTMAS crafts and carols by lantern light will bring a festive flavour to Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's base this weekend.

The nature conservation charity is hosting an afternoon of family craft activities on Saturday (December 3).

It will be followed by an evening walk at its Wolsley Centre base, in Wolsley Bridge, near Rugeley.

From 1 to 4pm, the trust's wildlife team will help children create their own natural Christmas inspired decorations, including crafty cards, twinkling tree ornaments and glowing glass lanterns.

Community and education officer Lynsey Eastwood said: "The session is a great way for children to make their own festive creations, and it really gets them excited for Christmas."

Readings

As the evening draws in and dark settles, the trust will be holding a special Christmas Carols by Lantern Light event.

Rev Mark Davys, from St Michael & All Angels Church, Colwich, will take visitors around the grounds of the Wolsley Centre, stopping throughout to sing carols and hear Christmas readings.

The walk will start at 4pm and last for about one hour. Refreshments including mince pies will be served after the walk.

The craft sessions are open to children of all ages and cost £3. Materials are provided but children must be accompanied by an adult.

Royal approval for firm's test facility

The Duke of Kent meets engineer Matt Hill

Meeting in Reception at Ultra PMES at Rugeley, 1 to r: HRH the Duke of Kent, Lord Lieutenant Sir Richard Hawley, Douglas Caster and Jonathan Everett

A RUGELEY-based technology company played host to a royal visitor when The Duke of Kent was given a tour of its state-of-the-art facility.

The Duke also ceremonially dug the first sod to mark the start of work on a new motor test and development facility at the Towers Business Park site.

During his tour of Ultra Electronic's PMES operation, the Duke met a number of the workforce and saw for himself the kind of complex manufacturing the firm carries out.

PMES is one of 25 businesses within Ultra and has grown significantly over the last five years with turnover now more than £44m a year. It operates three broad business streams; power systems, rail systems and underwater measurement systems and has a diverse portfolio of global customers in both government and private sectors.

A recent contract is with Rolls Royce to make remote controls for Royal Navy nuclear submarines.

The Duke of Kent was accompanied on his visit by the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire, Sir James Hawley. His hosts were Ultra's chairman, Douglas Caster, and the managing director of PMES, Jonathan Everett.

Mr Everett said: "For more than 50 years our company has been engaged in the design and manufacture of high-value technology products for defence, energy, and national infrastructure projects."

"As we expand our product range and broaden our global footprint, we will continue to provide cutting-edge technical solutions and so contribute significantly to the local economy. This visit was in recognition of this contribution."

Vacancies

The company has taken on 70 new staff this year, but is still trying to fill 30 vacancies, mainly for skilled engineers.

PMES moved into its 50,000sq ft, £5.5m premises on the business park three years ago.

In August, Ultra announced it had seen profits rise by nine per cent in the first half of this year. Bosses said the balance sheet remained strong.

Among its successes, the firm has been selected by Lockheed Martin to supply equipment for the upgrade of Warrior armoured vehicles.

Diamond date for residents

COUNTY council chiefs are searching for 60 special Staffordshire people to help mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in style.

Prince Richard, the Duke of Gloucester, will lead a special service in Lichfield. It is taking place to mark the occasion on Sunday, February 19 next year.

The thanksgiving service will form the centrepiece of the county's celebrations for the 60th anniversary of the accession of the Queen to the throne.

The council is looking for 60 people, throughout the whole of the county who were born on the day the Queen acceded to the throne on February 6, 1952.

The Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire, Sir James Hawley, and the chairman of Staffordshire County Council, Frank Lewis, are jointly hosting the afternoon service at Lichfield Cathedral.

The event is by invitation only and places are limited.

Landmark

People interested in attending are asked to reply in writing, enclosing a copy of their birth certificate, to the Civic Office, Staffordshire County Council, Tipping Street, ST16 2DH. The deadline for replies is December 9 with numbered invitations and further information being sent out to the successful applicants in January.

Elsewhere in Staffordshire parishes are being invited to light beacons in their own tribute to the

60 invited on Jubilee festivities

Queen's landmark year. Organisers aim to light 2,012 beacons across the UK making it easier for communities and organisations to become involved.

A special book containing all the beacon locations will be given to the Queen after the event to be kept in the Royal Library at Windsor.

Parishes and other organisations are invited to light one of two beacons to be involved in the project – either a bonfire beacon lit in a country park, private land or on open public space, or a church tower beacon, fuelled by two small bottles of propane gas, similar to those which will be lit at St James's Palace, the Tower of London and Holyrood House, on June 4 next year.

From front to back: Residents Daniela Ballantine and Chaz Girvan, Becky Raven-Smith and Jackie Ilic from South Staffordshire Housing Association, Andrew Lindop from South Staffordshire District Council and Lynn Small, headteacher at Littleton Green Primary

Looking for a job? Then join the club

A WORK club has opened in Huntington to help unemployed people find a job. It follows the success of other work clubs in the South Staffordshire district in helping people back into work and accessing volunteering opportunities.

Extra help in finding work

South Staffordshire Housing Association is running the club, where there are people on hand to help with updating and writing CVs, accessing job opportunities, preparing for interviews, and completing online applications.

Among those attending the first Huntington Work Club was Chaz Girvan, aged 25, of Cheslyn Hay, who was made redundant last year.

The Huntington Work Club runs fortnightly on a Thursday with the next one on December 8 from 10am to midday at Littleton Green Community School.

Remaining dates are December 2 and 16, January 13 and 27 and February 10. To book places, call Ruth Lindsey on 01543 438615.

This musical is a real dream

Dreamboats and Petticoats, Grand Theatre

MOST of them weren't born when the music was released but this young troupe really came of age in this magical musical.

Dreamboats and Petticoats delighted Wolverhampton's packed Grand Theatre as the audience joined in with all their favourite hits, swept along by the chance to relive the golden 60s musical era.

The stage was fairly basic but that was all that was needed, the story was told through the songs and they came thick and fast. Featuring hits from the era of Roy Orbison, The Shadows, Eddie Cochran, Billy Fury, Chuck Berry and many more, Dreamboats and Petticoats takes you back to an age when rock 'n' roll ruled.

Featuring songs such as To Know Him Is To Love Him, Little Town Flirt and Happy Birthday Sweet 16 it told the story of how in 1961 emotions ran high as talented young musicians Norman and Bobby competed to win the hearts of their adoring female fans, and more importantly Laura. But when Laura shows her musical talent, fame beckons. David Ribi as the geeky Bobby – who was almost Frank Spencer-like in his mannerisms – and Samantha Dorrance as Laura were superb, in fact the whole cast give 100 per cent.

Inspired by the smash hit multi-million selling albums, Dreamboats and Petticoats 1 to 4, the West End sell-out sensation Dreamboats and Petticoats is back at the Grand by popular demand and runs until Saturday (3).

The Nutcracker, Birmingham Hippodrome

IF you are always a little bit bah humbug in the lead up to the festive season there is an ideal way to put yourself in the Christmas spirit – a trip to see The Nutcracker.

This ballet is always a favourite at this time of year and you can see why. The huge Christmas tree which covers nearly half the stage spreads cheer and the dancing is simply a gift!

Sir Peter Wright's The Nutcracker performed by the Birmingham Royal Ballet is at the city's Hippodrome theatre until Sunday, December 11 and really is a must see. Sir Peter himself was there on the opening night celebrating his 85th birthday and he was certainly in for a treat.

It is easy to let yourself get swept up in the excitement of Christmas with this Tchaikovsky classic.

For young girl Clara at Christmas all her dreams come true? After sneaking downstairs at midnight to play with her new Nutcracker doll, she is swept up in a fantasy of toy soldiers, giant rats, snow fairies, magic and mystery.

After saving her Nutcracker doll from the King of the Rats, she is 'flown' into an enchanted land meeting a host of strange and exotic characters, before she is finally transformed into a beautiful ballerina and dances with The Prince. The night passes in a blur and she wakes up on Christmas morning, at the foot of the Christmas tree.

The first half combines drama with dance but the second half is solely a showcase of the wonderful dancing with brilliant performances in particular by Nao Sakuma as the Sugar Plum Fairy, Jamie Bond as The Prince, Robert Parker as Drosselmeyer, the magician and Carol Anne Miller as Clara with enchanting performance from the 'toys' as they perform for Clara.

The scenery is very convincing and the effects quite enchanting. Book yourself an early gift with a ticket for this production.

The Staves, Glee Club (Studio), Birmingham

Not since the Corrs has there been a talented family that could take the folk scene by storm but there is now.

They are three sisters Emily – vocals, Camilla – vocals and ukulele and Jessica Staveley – vocals and guitar, collectively and appropriately called The Staves.

Although the trio have already played Glastonbury, they are still very much an up-and-coming band but they have the stage presence and ability to be big.

The sisters' harmonising is a sheer delight and their crystal clear tones, notwithstanding a piece of lodged crisp annoying Emily, lift you to another place.

As you would expect their repertoire is limited at the moment, with their first album yet to be put together, so you have to be content with a couple of EPs but what they have got is perfect in its execution and wonderfully enjoyable. The sisters sing together like they can communicate telepathically, demonstrated with precision on Fire, a ballad which builds up slowly to eventually catch you unawares and before you know it has you tapping your feet.

With Camilla showing her ukulele skills on Facing West and then switching to Jes leading on the guitar on I Try they perform more like a seasoned band than one who which is as yet unsigned.

They kept the appreciative audience at the Glee wanting more with the title track of their EP Mexico, Icarus and Gone Tomorrow, among others coming back for the encore and playing, what could well become their signature tune, Silver Dagger. The Staves are definitely one to watch.

Also, certainly worthy of mention was support act Katie Rose Bennett whose jaunty, thoughtful and clever lyrics were a delight to the senses.

Teachers' band on the bill for double header

A DOUBLE-HEADER of Lichfield talent is coming to the city tomorrow (Friday) for a night to remember at the Guildhall.

Chloe and the Tomcats head up the bill with their blend of melodic acoustic arrangements inspired by an eclectic musical taste within the band.

Recent EP Make No Mistake, produced by George Shilling at his studio Bank Cottage, was picked up by BBC Introducing West Midlands, with songs played on a live broadcast.

Chloe Smith leads the group on vocals, with Tom Wigley on bass, Dave Sellar on guitar, Matty Sellar on drums and Alan Baker on keyboard.

Also on the bill for the double-header is Lichfield rock and blues favourites Stray Dog.

The unique trio of secondary school teachers: Ian Henderson (bass, vocals), Pete Morgan (drums, vocals) and Warren Scott (guitar, vocals) have high energy and sharp edged sounds as their hallmark.

Lichfield Arts director Chris Newcombe said:

"This concert brings together two generations of wonderful local talent, two very different bands who are both very popular in Lichfield."

"Coming hot on the heels after the success of the Tom Woodman Band last Sunday this concert showcases what a wealth of talent Lichfield has to offer."

The concert starts at 8pm and tickets cost £5 for adults and £4 for members and students. Call 01543 262223 or visit Donegal House, Bore Street or log on to www.lichfieldarts.org.uk

McConville Trio to pull in crowds at Guildhall

HIGHLY respected musician Tom McConville is sure to pull in the crowds when he appears at the Lichfield Guildhall.

McConville, from Newcastle, has been regarded as the top fiddle player in the country for many years and brings his Trio to the Guildhall in Bore Street this Sunday (December 4).

His live performances are said to combine fast, rhythmic dance tunes through beautiful slow airs and great singing – all presented with his inimitable sense of humour and style.

Renowned for his musical accompaniments, Tom has played on hundreds of albums by artists including Barbara Dickson, Richard Thompson, Allan Taylor and Lindisfarne.

He began his career in the vibrant folk scene of Tyneside and went on to work in a duo with Bob Fox, topped the Cambridge Folk Festival with Kieron Halpin, and shared stages with Mark O'Connor, Paul Brady, The Chieftains and many more. In 2009, Tom won the coveted Musician of The Year at the BBC Folk awards, with a panel of 170 broadcasters, folk journalists, festival organisers and agents recognising his 36-year contribution to the folk scene.

Tom was presented with the award by previous winner Seth Lakeman who credits Tom, his mentor, as the biggest influence on his career.

Great

Lichfield Arts director Chris Newcombe said: "The Guildhall has played host to some great musicians over the years and they don't come much better than Tom McConville."

The concert starts at 8pm with tickets costing £12 full price, £11 concessions, £10 members and £6 students.

For further details and to book tickets visit www.lichfieldarts.org.uk, call 01543 262223, or drop into the Lichfield Arts box office at Donegal House.

Sniffing out the perfect scent for a festive home

CHRISTMAS conjures up vivid images: piles of gifts, the sparkle of decorations and tables groaning with food. But its aromas are surely just as potent.

The smell of pine, woodsmoke, cinnamon and cloves can instantly get you in the mood for the season, even if there's still plenty of stressful preparation to contend with.

The power of home fragrance, rightly now regarded as an essential accessory, is particularly apparent at this time of year when we're spending more time indoors - often entertaining - and need to create atmosphere in rooms to suit our mood.

"When it comes to choosing scents for the home at Christmas, perhaps the most popular are the traditional spice notes because they are warming and comforting," says Lisa Hipgrave, director of the International Fragrance Association - United Kingdom.

"I'm always looking for products with clove, cinnamon and orange notes. Other traditional and much-loved fragrances are based on frankincense and myrrh, which are also warm and welcoming."

If those are too predictable for you, she suggests black peppercorns and vanilla, or try the newest fragrances that include the scent of snowflakes and ice.

"These crisp, cold, fashionable scents are achieved using ingredients with herbal, menthol nuances as well as white floral notes," says Hipgrave.

She points out that as well as choosing home fragrances to suit your mood, you can also theme them to complement your décor.

"If you've selected warm red berries and flowers with red table napkins, for instance, then the spicy warm scents may be the perfect choice to enhance the mood."

Follow your nose for scents to suit style and budget.

SEASONAL SPICE
"It's one of the most popular times of year for scented candles and fragrance sprays," says Kate Rowland, fragrance buyer for Sainsbury's.

"Lighting candles in a scent you like instantly creates a welcoming, cosy atmosphere. I like to make a feature by filling a glass bowl with different height candles, with one of them fragranced and surrounded by baubles.

"To make the aroma last longer, spritz the room with a complementing scented room spray."

SPLURGE: Pine & Eucalyptus Luxury Candle, £260, Jo Malone. Or True Grace Snowfall 12 Candle Votive Set, £50, John Lewis. Each votive depicts a tiny image from a dove to a drum set, and the scent is a smoky blend of cedar and sandalwood with hints of birch, amber and moss.

SPEND: Tu Christmas Spice Wax Filled Glass Scented Candle, £3, Sainsbury's. Or try Yankee Candle's fantasy fragrance, White Christmas, which has natural extracts conjuring evergreens and freshly fallen snow, from £7.49 for a small jar size.

KEEP CALM

If you're stressed by all the festivities, you probably need scents which soothe.

"There can be a lot of tension in the lead-up to the holiday and soothing scents can take the temperature down. Calming scents include lavender and geranium," says Rosey Barnet, artistic director of Shearer Candles.

SPLURGE: Neom Organics is one of the Duchess of Cambridge's favourite candle companies. Its Sensuous Candle, £37.50, is designed for those needing to hibernate and de-stress. It contains Ylang Ylang, frankincense and patchouli.

SPEND: Soy Wax Lavender & Lime jar candle or Soy Wax Orange & Geranium jar candle, £10 each from Shearer Candles.

FARE PLAY

Food and feasting is at the heart of the celebrations and just the aromas of seasonal treats can enhance the atmosphere.

"Compliment wonderful food with spicy scents like cinnamon and cloves," says Barnet.

"Strong scents like oranges and figs are lovely for Christmas Eve as they'll lift the spirits and create an atmosphere of anticipation."

SPLURGE: Roasted Chestnut Deluxe Candle, £80, Jo Malone, has scents of spices and sweetened caramel as well as chestnuts. Or try a Cinnamon and Tangerine Scented Candle, £40, and room fragrance, £25, from Floris.

SPEND: A new range by Bake Boutique will delight foodies. Its scented candles, £32 each, have subtle rather than sickly fragrance despite their sweet-treat names: Cinnamon Gingerbread Man and Chocolate and Honeycomb Brownie.

FRISKY FLORALS

In a bleak winter landscape, floral scents can cheer as they bring back memories of summer days.

"Contemporary lakes involving white tree decorations with lilies and white roses on the Christmas table have floral hints, so need a fresh, cooler scent," says Hipgrave.

"Warmer floral scents such as rose will suit more traditional settings."

SPLURGE: English Pear and Freesia candle, £38, Jo

Cinnamon and Tangerine Scented Candle, £40 and room fragrance, £25, both available from Floris

Royal Horticultural Society's Amayllis home fragrance large wax-filled glass candle, £8.49, and reed diffuser, £15.99, from The Garden Centre Group, available in its 130 stores in England and Wales.

BURN-IT BOYS

Men and scented candles aren't always a natural pairing and they often regard them with the same enthusiasm as Christmas shopping trips.

"Men are intimidated when it comes to buying candles," says interior designer Eliska Saperia of Eliska Design Associates.

"There's so much choice and also a plethora of overtly feminine smells available which puts them off.

"I've created a range which appeals equally to both sexes and will work in a bachelor pad just as well as a family home. Earthy, natural scents work well for them and they usually like something which gives real character to a room."

SPLURGE: Eliska Scented Candle - Pondichery, £35, a natural wax candle with an evocative scent of black pepper, leather, tonka bean and iris. Or try La Fumee Candle by Miller Harris, £34, from Space NK, which has the scent of citrus, spice, smoke and wood.

SPEND: Wax Lyrical's new scented candle range for Fired Earth has glass containers with colours that echo some of the company's paint shades. A large wax-filled candle is £18 and sophisticated scents include Emperor's Red Tea with Bergamot, Rose Pepper and Dried Tea and Green Tea & Bergamot, neither of which would scare the boys.

For a more manly scent - Fired Earth collection Emperor's Red Tea with Bergamot scented candle, £18, from Wax Lyrical

motors

Your essential guide to the world of motoring compiled by Motoring Editor Sharon Walters

Ford's stars on show

THE Los Angeles Auto Show saw a bundle of new launches targeted at North American shores – but a few bits worthy of interest from a UK perspective also made an appearance. In a show that would have been dwarfed next to the IAA at Frankfurt earlier this year, the buzzwords were efficiency, value and style.

Fuel economy is finally a concern for everyday Americans, and the reality of driving true gas-guzzlers is hitting home. But thankfully most of the new, more-frugal releases unveiled at the show – which ran until November 27 – actually look good.

Ford had a few things on display that, since its decision to build single models for a global market, will also be seen in Europe.

The Escape compact SUV will be better known over here as the next Kuga. Once Ford has swapped the badges and installed some new diesel engines it will be shown off at the Geneva Motor Show in March.

There was also a prototype model of the proposed Fiesta ST, along with a racing version.

Ford is known in Europe for its fast hatchbacks so the idea of it not being built is unthinkable, and it was actually first shown at Frankfurt earlier this year.

It takes its styling cues from the production-ready

Focus ST, which is set to star in the film remake of The Sweeney. The hot Fiesta will feature a 1.6-litre EcoBoost engine with around 180bhp.

Volkswagen offered another interesting concept, with its Beetle R. Intended to form part of the 'R' brand that VW is trying to build, the Beetle would share its 260bhp-ish turbo-charged four-cylinder engine with the Golf R and the Scirocco R.

VW has tried a hot Beetle before with a 170bhp V5 version, but the cutesy image didn't mesh with its performance claims. If the Beetle R goes ahead, VW will be hoping for better results this time.

Beauty

Mazda came up with a real beauty in the shape of the MX-5 Spyder which, in the same manner as the Porsche Boxster Spyder, features a temporary canvas roof. It would be a fair-weather sort of car, but it saves weight over a proper roof.

And, of course, the tuners were there, turning acceptable everyday cars into tasteless monstrosities. Glossy white wheels, tribal design graphics and unnecessarily large spoilers were the order of the day.

The show was a little light on new European-relevant releases, as expected, but there are glimmers of hope that exciting new models are still coming through.

Ford's Fiesta ST concept may still make it to production and a Sweeney movie remake

Backing into good deal on Motability

The new Myvi SXI is offered with an interest free finance package

FREE reverse park control is now available to all Motability customers opting for a new Perodua Myvi during November and December.

This new offer is available across the Myvi range and is completely free of charge to Motability customers whose applications are submitted to and accepted by Motability up to December 31.

The stylish Myvi super-mini, which already has a high specification as standard, will now benefit from reverse park control helping avoid any unwanted bumps and keeping the Myvi in perfect condition.

With competitive weekly payments and no advance payment required across most of the range, the Myvi is currently available to Motability customers from as little as £46.73 per week.

The Myvi has air conditioning, four electric windows, electric door mirrors, integral radio/CD player, central locking, plus much more as standard.

A four-speed fully automatic version is available from just £49.95 per week.

Practical

The Myvi is incredibly spacious for a super-mini, with a surprising amount of head and leg room allowing five adults to travel comfortably.

Should additional space be required, the Myvi has a practical and simple to use 60:40 split fold-flat rear seat system which transforms the vehicle to carry luggage and bulky items with ease.

Motability customers interested in benefiting from this new offer are advised to contact their nearest Perodua Motability dealer whose details can be found by visiting www.perodua-uk.com or by calling 01491 415230.

Perodua is also offering interest free finance to customers purchasing a new Myvi SXI between now and the end of December.

This offer means that Myvi SXI customers don't have to part with their hard earned cash all at once or worry about interest charges - simply let Perodua pay the interest for you!

This new offer is valid with a specific finance deal which works with a 50 per cent deposit of £3,499.50 and the balance is repayable over a period of 24 months, with 23 payments of £145.81 and one final payment of £145.87.

Get your socks on to beat winter

HONDA drivers can be ready when the cold weather comes thanks to a new winter care programme, which includes a seasonal health check, a full winter service – and the opportunity to purchase a pair of tyre snow socks.

Honda's snow socks are tyre covers which are designed to be easy to use and provide a solution to help get drivers moving on snowy side roads.

They can be kept in the boot and slipped on to the front set of tyres when needed. From £70 per pair, snow socks provide extra traction to increase grip on snow without causing noise or vibration while driving.

Once the car is back on a clear road, they can be removed and stored in the boot of the car ready for when they need to be used again.

"After several severe winters in a row, we are keen to ensure Honda customers are fully prepared and able to stay mobile where possible," commented Dave Hodgetts, Managing Director of Honda (UK).

"Snow socks offer the perfect combination of affordability and ease of use without the worry of where to store them."

Honda is also offering customers who purchase a set of winter tyres a cost effective storage solution.

Perfect

For £35 plus VAT, customers buying a winter set can place their spare "summer" ones in secure storage. This cost covers a 12-month period and includes two tyre transfers to/from the Honda dealership – perfect for winter and summer changeovers.

Honda drivers can make sure their car is in tip-top condition for the cold weather by taking it to a Honda dealer for a reassuring winter health check.

Qualified Honda technicians will inspect the battery, windscreen, tyres, brakes and lights, and will also ensure the engine coolant and screenwash are all filled up.

The winter health check costs just £40 and customers will receive a complimentary winter safety kit worth £24.99.

This handy pack includes a foldable snow shovel, foil blanket, high-visibility vest and LED torch.

For that added extra piece of mind, drivers can book their car in for a full winter service. On top of an oil and filter change and checks across the car undertaken by a qualified technician, Honda is also adding a year's complimentary UK roadside assistance worth £99.

To book in for a health check or winter service and to order a set of snow socks visit www.honda.co.uk for further information and to find your nearest Honda dealership.

The Suzuki V-Strom delivers a new style with improvements made throughout

V-Strom is taking Suzuki marque into new territory

By Bob Hickman

THE 2012 version Suzuki V-Strom takes the company into a potential marketplace that I think they may have overlooked – I refer to those more mature bikers.

Sadly, with age comes certain problems with regard to flexibility and mobility; access to low-slung cars and sport motorbikes in particular becomes more problematic, but rather than give up on motor cycling why not have a look at this new V-Strom machine?

It is a delight to ride, like sitting in your favourite armchair with your old comfy slippers.

That is not to say that the bike is a slouch, it is just that it really is a delightful package that Suzuki has put together.

The new styling is a stunning success in its own right. It looks reasonably upmarket, doesn't cost a lot and improvements have been made throughout the range from the engine to the handling and the manageability.

It is quite a good package and it is a willing and eager performer. The 650 V-twin engine is almost linear-like in its flexibility and power performance, and it surprised me considerably with the smoothness and willingness to pull and the degree of torque delivered in fifth and sixth gears.

Smooth

It always felt a free-revving engine and yet, for a V-twin configuration, it was not lumpy like some of the larger V-twins that I have ridden.

It was extremely smooth like a 4-cylinder and with 68bhp and a 120mph top speed where possible, not slow either.

The engine has its red line at a high 10,000 and it was pleasant to note that at 60mph the engine ticked over at 4,250 and at 70mph it was doing a mere 5,000 revs per minute.

The handling characteristics impressed me. The V-Strom was like a sports bike to ride – its initial impression gives you a feeling of looking like a trail bike, probably in the mould of the Triumph Adventurer or the big BMW.

But its handling belies this, probably due to the excellent tubeless tyres, the rear being quite a nice low-profile, wide 150/70 R17, so you never had the feeling of falling off the edge of the world.

I particularly like the dashboard. Here you have all the instrumentation clearly laid out in front of you, accessible by the big gloved hand.

The LCD panel has a digital speed display, a fuel gauge, temperature gauge and a dual trip meter.

It also had a computer to work out the on-board fuel consumption – and I was extremely pleased to return 67.3mpg during my sojourn with the bike on an assortment of road types.

Niggle

One item that did annoy me was that the indicators do not self-cancel. I know this is only a minor niggle, but a lot of bikes nowadays have self-cancelling indicators and whilst I accept I should look at the repeater panel to remind myself to cancel them, I do feel that this is an oversight and could be addressed.

Shorter riders will have no problem with the Suzuki's seat height of marginally over 32in; in addition it is not particularly heavy at 472lb.

So again, ease of manoeuvrability – even when it comes to stopping at traffic lights it is not too difficult for the feet to go down and to be in total control of the machine.

The bike has twin disc brakes at the front and a single disc at the rear. It also has an ABS system.

A slight negative for me was the amount of dip when the front brake was applied. I thought it needed a little more damping.

Whether a thicker grade oil or a slightly higher rate of spring may work I am not certain, but that is purely a personal thing for me.

The starting system was electronic and with a fuel injection system on the engine there are no fiddly chokes to mess with – the engine drops in to a pleasant tick-over without any problems.

The six-speed box is a delight and each gear and its ratio seemed to suit the bike perfectly.

The V-Strom is a machine worth a second glance, albeit not a sports mode, but this is a machine that with the right rider on board could certainly give a lot of sports riders a run for their money – and a bit of a shock.

Priced at £6,899 and with a two-year unlimited mileage warranty and a free 12 months AA recovery service, the Suzuki V-Strom is on sale now.

Getting to grips with winter snow

It's worth considering some winter tyres for your car if we get the harsh weather once again this year

THE IAM is advising motorists planning to fit winter tyres to order them now to beat the rush.

In countries where severe winters are guaranteed, it is quite normal for drivers to switch to winter tyres. This is becoming more common in the UK because of harsh winters over the last two years.

Winter tyres have a different tread pattern to give better grip on snow and ice and have a snowflake on a mountain as a symbol on the sidewall. The symbol indicates that they use winter grade rubber which stays flexible and maintains grip to well below freezing. The rubber used on standard tyres hardens as the temperature drops.

Winter tyres are not suitable for all year round – regular tyres give better performance when temperatures are higher and roads dry – but they do make sense for drivers living in more remote areas where winter conditions are likely to be more severe for longer or for those who feel they have to travel no matter what the weather.

An alternative to changing tyres is to carry snow chains or snow socks to fit when the snow gets deep. Snow socks are made of a strong fabric which grips snow – they stretch to fit over the tyre.

Either of these can be used with standard tyres and they fit quite easily into a corner of the boot, or garage in summer.

Severe

IAM chief examiner Peter Rodger said: "The weather we experience in the UK is nowhere near as severe as many other countries, but with the past two winters having been particularly bad, motorists in the hardest-hit areas may feel reassured to have the extra grip winter tyres afford."

"But weigh up the expense. A full set will cost £400 – £500, and most drivers won't detect any significant difference in grip until the temperature is freezing. Most importantly, if conditions are really treacherous you should just consider postponing the journey and staying at home. Even if the mercury drops to below zero, safe and sensible driving will mean you shouldn't have any cause for emergency stops, and so little need to test your tyres to their limits."

Whatever tyres are fitted, regular checks of tread depth and pressure are even more important in winter. Performance in snow, ice or sub-zero conditions will reduce significantly if the tread depth falls below 3mm.

Pressure should be checked with the tyres cold – that means they should have been driven no more than a mile.

Do not be tempted to reduce pressure to increase grip. Tyres with low pressure do not have any more grip and are prone to overheating and blowouts.

The BMW 3 Series came top in a reliability survey, retaining its position

Number one for reliability

BMW produces the most reliable company cars, according to the UK's largest vehicle reliability survey. Commissioned by Fleet News magazine, the annual analysis of the top-50 leasing companies by fleet size in the UK asked participants to rank the best vehicles and manufacturers for reliability, with scores compiled to create a top 10 for cars.

The chosen companies have a combined fleet of more than 1.2 million vehicles, and the reliability survey is the UK's largest.

After crunching the numbers, it was discovered that German brands have caught up with Japanese cars when it comes to reliability. Six German cars appear in the top 10 (three of them in the top five), while three of the top five car manufacturers for reliability are also German.

The BMW 3 Series is the most reliable company car, according to the survey, retaining its number one position from 2010, while the Honda Accord retains its second place from 2010.

Absent

The Volkswagen Golf has leaped to third place from 10th, while the Audi A3 takes fourth place after appearing outside the top 10 last year.

Two British-built cars take fifth and sixth places – the Burnaston-produced Toyota Avenis and the Sunderland-built Nissan Qashqai – while the Volkswagen Passat takes seventh place in the table, coming from outside the top 10 in 2010, with last year's third place car, the Audi A4, in eighth place.

The final two places in the table are taken by two cars absent from the top 10 last year, with the Mazda 6 taking ninth place and the BMW 5 Series securing 10th place.

BMW also takes the top spot as the most reliable car manufacturer, with Audi taking second place.

Commenting on the result, Tim Abbott, managing director at BMW UK, said: "We are delighted to have won the overall honour in the FN50 reliability survey."

"The outgoing BMW 3 Series Saloon and the 3 Series range overall has been and continues to be an outstanding success for us."

"Awards such as this ensure customers can buy a class-leading vehicle safe in the knowledge that only years of enjoyable, hassle free motoring in a premium car await."

Win a ride in Aston Martin

A RIDE in an Aston Martin and £1,000 to spend on a holiday are on offer to someone aged between 10 and 16 for writing a short story.

And the winner's mum or dad will have the pick of the current Audi car range, free for a week.

The prizes comes from the Midland Group of Motoring Writers and are in memory of one of its members, the late Phil Llewellyn from Oswestry, who contributed to magazines all around the world.

The Phil Llewellyn Award is aimed at budding motoring writers.

To enter, write a story of about 500 words on "my perfect car and the journey I'd take in it". Then email your story to brian.vertigen@btinternet.com

Closing date is January 8, 2012. Please include your full name, date of birth, home address and telephone number.

A trophy and the prize package will be presented to the winner in the new year. You can see the current winner at gmwv.co.uk

Midland Group chairman Ian Donaldson said: "The most recent winner of the competition has just got back from a holiday in Italy, paid for by the £1,000 of travel vouchers she won in the competition."

"Her mum and dad loved their week in a new Audi cabriolet and the winner is still talking about the trip to Aston Martin's HQ and a ride in one of the company's fantastic cars with a test driver at the wheel."

BATE

Mary

Mom, I thought you were invincible, Mom I thought you'd never leave, I thought you'd be here forever, so I can't quite believe. Your death has brought so much sadness I can't believe you're gone but as the Angels came for you, the Sun it brought shone. You went up to Heaven and escaped from all the pain but now you're free from this world, things will never be the same. With all the love in my heart your memories will always stay because I'll never forget you. Mom I'll remember you every day. I'm so proud to say you were my Mom and thank you for a life time of devotion.

Rest in peace with Dad till we meet again.

Nan

I saw a little boy who stumbled and fell, a pair of loving arms reached out to hug and make him well, a special bond between them was there for all to see. I was just a boy then and today I'm just a Man, now you have found peace from your troubles and pain still in this time of sadness our special bond remains.

Your devoted Grandson Lee and Partner Sally.

Merger will be net gain for players

Achim Kreuser (left front) chairman of Lichfield Friary welcomes Bob Edgar, current chairman of Lichfield Tennis Club to the Tamworth Road site

PLAYERS in Lichfield and South East Staffordshire can make even more racket following the merger of Lichfield Friary and Lichfield Lawn Tennis Clubs.

Lichfield Lawn Tennis Club has been on its Birmingham Road site since 1895, but the lease on the site will terminate shortly. After evaluating several options the club approached Lichfield Friary, in Tamworth Road, to suggest a merger, a suggestion that was approved by members at both clubs.

All players and assets will transfer to the Friary club creating a 250-strong members organisation and from 2012 the 'super club' will be known as Lichfield Friary Lawn Tennis Club.

Bob Edgar, Lichfield Lawn Tennis Club chairman said: "After many years in the centre of the city, we are looking forward to playing at some of the best club facilities in Staffordshire. Everyone at the Friary has been very welcoming and we are pleased to be part of such a dynamic and ambitious 'super club' that will provide for tennis players of all ages and abilities in the Lichfield area."

Achim Kreuser, Lichfield Friary Club chairman said: "We very much welcome Lichfield Tennis Club and look forward to playing with and against more people, lots more competitive matches and more opportunities to socialise. We are having the courts resurfaced; our junior programme is developing and is proving to be a great success with local children of all ages and all this whilst integrating the two clubs."

The merger will create one of the biggest in Staffordshire with more than 250 members, playing across 17 teams on six artificial grass floodlight courts.

Chase Athletic under-7s, who until November 27 had won every game this season

New team Chasing the dream

CHASE Athletic Under-7s have made a fantastic start to football in their first season.

The team, pictured with coach Russell Brown, had won their first eight games scoring 40 goals and even racking up a 15-0 win in the process.

Their 100 per cent winning run came to an end last Sunday, November 27, as they lost 2-0 to Holly Lane.

The team, which is led by manager and qualified coach Dave Smith, has talent in abundance.

His son Dylan Smith, who is top scorer with 10 goals, plays for the Manchester United academy and versatile Ben Richardson has been snapped up by Wolves. But the team is showing such strong promise due to the talent and enthusiasm of the whole squad.

The team is sponsored by Steve and John Lomas of Cannock family-run removal company JLF Moving Solutions, and Alan Turner of the Barns Hotel, Bars and Restaurant, in Huntington, whose grandson Isaac plays in the team.

The squad trains on Saturday mornings and plays home matches at Longford Junior School on Sunday mornings.

Another Chase side, the Under-13 Juniors, won the division one league and cup double last season and moved back to the summit with a 3-1 over Colon Boys last weekend, Connell Devons scoring a hat-trick

Here come the girls – for international duty

TEENAGERS at a Cannock school are preparing to take on the world's best after being selected for a national sport squad.

Fifteen-year-olds Hannah Grosvenor, Harriet Richards, Kate Lawton, Megan Shirley and Megan Connor have been picked for an England under-18s handball squad.

The group, all pupils at Cardinal Griffin RC High School are three years younger than some of their team-mates.

Their coach, retired PE teacher Pop Popovic, launched a girls' handball team last October after students expressed an interest, and it has gone from strength to strength.

"We train for an hour and a half every Monday night as well as playing in a league, which we are top of at the moment," he said.

"The girls have all been called up for the final assessment squad which will meet up during December."

"The squad will probably be whittled down to 15 for the games, but all the girls will continue to be involved in international training."

CANNOCK LADIES 3 LICHFIELD DIAMONDS LADIES 5 – WEST MIDLAND WOMEN'S PREMIER LEAGUE

DIAMONDS travelled to second-placed Cannock expecting a tight game, with both teams missing players.

It was the city side's greater strength in depth that made difference, taking a 2-0 lead into half time courtesy of Emma Daley's header from a corner and Karen Clough's delicate chip over the keeper from Steph Cole's long goal kick. It could have been a rout but for several of the goal saves from Cannock's keeper, while a Zoe Barrett free-kick came back off the bar.

A minute into the second half, however, it was game over as Clough fired into the corner and shortly after claimed her hat-trick. With 18 minutes to go Diamonds went to sleep at the back conceding from a corner before Alison Livermore hit the goal of the game, volleying into the top corner from another corner to take her past last season's goal tally already this campaign.

With the game all but over Diamonds became sloppy, conceding two goals in the final five minutes.

The time of year to target chub and roach on rivers

THE recent drop in temperature has had an effect on most of the fisheries around the area. Catches are generally down, but we should not complain as this time last year it was minus 15 and most lakes were frozen over.

At this time of the year, I would usually be recommending anglers try local rivers as this is the time to target chub and roach, with the possibility of barbel if the frosts stay away. The rivers are in desperate need of some water, the Trent is very low and it needs a good spate to push the debris and weed through.

Fish are there to be caught though, and anglers with patience are being rewarded with some specimen size chub.

Another local river, the Anker at Tamworth, hit the headlines with a brace of double figure barbel including a new river record at 15lb 3oz.

Over at Fisherwick Lakes, anglers have been managing to catch a few and the best fish on the carp lake was caught by Lichfield angler Richard Bland who had 20lb mirror and also a 16lb common. Craig Holloway from Sutton Coldfield had a 18lb 8oz mirror. Ryan Berridge from West Brom caught an 18lb 8oz common and a 16lb 8oz mirror, while Paul Addis from Lichfield took four carp, the best being 18lb.

ANGLING by VERNON LEADBETTER - In Association with Archline Angling

Dave Radford caught a 16lb mirror and Sean Ford from Alrewas landed a 17lb 8oz common in pristine condition. The most successful method was single fruit flavour pop-ups. Over on the coarse lakes the high winds kept anglers away, but those that did venture out caught plenty of roach and perch on the streams using maggot or castor.

The Fisherwick Open runs every Sunday, with a 9am draw at the lodge. These are fished on the stream and are silverfish only matches through the winter. It costs £13 to enter and anglers wishing to fish it can book on 01543 433606.

Our fly-tying courses are held each Monday from 6pm to 7.30pm and the shop is also open during this time.

Send an e-mail with a picture if you catch anything of interest, and let us know if you have had a great day's sport and want to give your fishery a mention. Contact Vernon at Archline Angling on 01922 411205, call into the store or email info@archlineangling.co.uk

Rugeley rip up the definition of Barbarians

RUGELEY 3RD XV 41 BARBARIANS 12

ACCORDING to the dictionary the word Barbarian means "untamed, vicious, vulgar, and wild".

But last weekend at Hagley Fields, Rugeley 3rd XV proved to the Barbarians that they were nothing like the dictionary definition.

It did look at the start of the game that the visitors were going to dominate and control the game with an easy try right under the Rugeley posts within the first five minutes.

But at the 15th minute of the game, forward Martyn Bentley scored what turned out to be the first of three tries, repeating his efforts at the 18th and 21st minutes.

With the help and input from old timers Neil Harvey Snr and Mario Leone, Rugeley were able to end the first half with a convincing score-line of 24-5.

The second period started with Rugeley's combination of old and young all coming together as one formidable team. New boy Daniel Mayle (centre) put away three tries to demotivate the struggling visiting team.

The home team continued to dominate and thanks to the leadership from Stephen Keys as captain there was no chance that Birmingham would ever come back at Rugeley.

With seven minutes to go, Jake Graham was responsible for hammering home the final nail in the casket of the Barbarians.

The wind at Hagley Fields was fast and furious, hampering the normally precise and brilliant kicking from Grootcut.

This weekend, Rugeley host Cannock.

Seven tries for experimental Burntwood

BURNWOOD 39 ALDRIDGE 0

BURNWOOD welcomed Aldridge to The Sportsway and experimented with their line-up, but after surviving a tough opening spell they ran in seven tries despite opting to face the elements in both halves.

Some 20 minutes passed before Burntwood turned the tide to produce the first score of the afternoon. Craig Seedhouse cut through to the line close to the posts. On a difficult day for place kicking, the conversion went astray.

Aldridge were still creating problems in the scrummages but when Burntwood stole an Aldridge put-in they used it to good effect, leading to Graham Shelley dummying his way through to the posts. Seedhouse converted.

Close to half-time the hosts won possession at a breakdown and Briggs beat three defenders as to run round the posts for a fine individual try. Seedhouse converted for a half time 19-0 lead.

Burntwood elected to play against the wind in the second period as well. It didn't seem to affect them as they quickly added tries from Hal Gozukeuk and Steve Blockley.

Good inter-passing put skipper Shelley in for his second try of the game and the contest was finished off with a second try for Blockley. Burntwood 39s also entertained Aldridge and despite a stop-start game, they ran in six tries on the way to a 40-7 win.

Centre Matt Filer completed a hat trick, Ian Cooper touched down in each half and Nick Peplow completed the try tally. Martin Otley converted six out of seven.

Rest day for Myrtles

SATURDAY was a rest week for the Lichfield 1st XV. This Saturday (December 3), the Myrtle Greens return to league action against Ludlow at Cooke Fields, 2.15pm kick off.

The Development XV produced a good performance to beat Burton 27-14.

City side draws on hope going into winter break

CANNOCK 4TH XI 3 EDGBASTON 4TH XI 1

CANNOCK earned a creditable win against the reigning champions, opening the scoring with Andy Broome after five minutes, and then doubling the advantage with a back post deflection off the same player.

After half-time Edgbaston scored to keep things interesting and soon had the chance to equalise with a penalty flick which saved by James Macpherson. Cannock scored their third of the game with Broome completing his hat-trick.

CANNOCK 5TH XI 8 LEEK 6TH XI 1

In a suspect first few minutes, Cannock found themselves conceding a short corner, but soon they were back in their stride and got a goal on the board a few minutes later with a well finished reverse stick shot by Paul Martin.

Cannock continued to pile on the pressure and by half-time Raff Moscatiello had bagged a hat-trick. The second half saw goals from Callum Stacey, Fergus Forsyth and a brace by the lively Tom Bunn. Only a minor lapse by Cannock saw the visitors grab a goal midway through the second half.

CANNOCK BADGERS 'A' XI 3 NORTH STAFFORD BADGERS XI 0

Rob Davies had hoped to use this game as a final warm up for the U-14 boys in preparation for their club competition the following day, but a number withdrawals had left the squad short of numbers. Rianne Martin was hastily drafted in and following a quick change joined her team mates in time for the push-back.

Cannock Badgers A looked to continue their unbeaten start and the opposition provided a sterner test than some of their previous encounters this season.

Cannock started brightly, pushing forward at every occasion although never threatening the North Staffs goalkeeper.

North Staffs proved difficult opposition to break down, but offered very little going forward and rarely looked like scoring. After 30 minutes Ollie Edwards opened the scoring with a crisp shot. A counter attack on the stroke of half-time saw Danny Swinnerton-Ions slip the ball to Jamie Greenwood whose cross shot skimmed the post.

Cannock's second goal arrived courtesy of a short corner training ground routine, finished off by Jordan Joiner. Alex Kingston rounded off the scoring.

CANNOCK U14S XI 6 WEST BROMWICH U14S XI 0

CANNOCK U14S XI 2 SUTTON COLDFIELD U14S XI 0

On a gloriously sunny day at Chase Park, Cannock U-14s were hosts to Burton, West Bromwich and Sutton Coldfield in the final round of group games.

Cannock went into the fixtures knowing they needed to win both matches, but also required a slip up from Burton if they were to progress further.

In their first match Cannock played West Bromwich and from the push-back they went in search of an early goal.

With the first half ticking away, the ball eventually broke to

HOCKEY ROUND-UP

Jamie Greenwood, who found the back of the goal with a well taken reverse. Having made the breakthrough, Cannock ran riot in the second half starting with a run and a thundering shot into the roof of the net by Jordan Joiner who then became provider, slipping the ball to Greenwood to make it 3-0.

Next inter-play enabled Kingston to finish before Joiner completed his hat-trick.

Cannock's second match of the day saw them face Sutton Coldfield knowing that whatever the score they could not overhaul Burton. In spite of this their spirits remained high and they attacked Sutton from the start and were able to build up a 2-0 lead by half time, courtesy of two goals by Lloyd Manley.

CANNOCK U16 XI 1 BELPER U16 XI 0

CANNOCK U16 XI 1 LICHFIELD U16 XI 0

Cannock U-16s travelled to King Edwards School in Lichfield for their final two group games of the first stage of their quest to become National Champions. After securing four points from their opening two games against Beeston and West Bridgford, Cannock knew another four points would be enough to secure them their place in the next stage.

They made a cagey start against Belper, but Cannock's patient tactics began to come to fruition as the half progressed.

As the whistle was about to blow for half-time Cannock won a short corner, which Louie Morris was able to convert after a short scrap in front of the Belper goal.

Cannock, however were not focused enough for the second half and soft defending allowed Belper a short corner from which they equalised in the opening exchanges of the second half.

Cannock's second game came against local rivals and hosts for the day Lichfield, who knocked Cannock out of the same competition last season. Cannock required a win but the score was goalless at half-time.

The second half again saw Cannock dominating but were not able to find that killer blow. With 10 minutes to go Reese Jacketts pounced on a loose ball and drove into the Lichfield 'D', rounded the keeper only to be took down by the on rushing keeper. Callum Stacey stepped forward and scored the elusive goal to put Cannock into the next round.

Meanwhile, a Jack Middleton double and a Matt Sanders strike was enough for Cannock U-18s as they went through to the 4th Round of the U18s EH Cup, beating Stourport 3-1.

SUTTON COLDFIELD LADIES 2ND XI 3 CANNOCK LADIES 2ND XI 1

Fifth place Cannock Ladies seconds took on leaders Sutton Coldfield at Sutton. An early penalty flick from Sutton meant that the Cannock were 1-0 down halfway through the first half and this was followed by another goal to make it 2-0 at half-time. A cross from Lauren Bullock was easily placed in the back of the net by Lauren Bradbury, but a goal towards the end of the game from Sutton meant that the final score was 3-1.

STAFFORD LADIES 2ND XI 1 CANNOCK LADIES 3RD XI 3

Cannock Ladies third team won their first game since the start of October after a battling performance against Stafford 2nds, and the three points were vital in their quest to pull away from the bottom of the table. Despite missing captain Stacey Mound, Cannock dominated from start to finish and scored three good goals after going behind.

A Michelle Woodward double and a Lucy McCarthy strike gave Cannock a great away win.

LICHFIELD MEN'S 1ST XI 1 WHITCHURCH 1

Lichfield went into the final game before the winter break knowing that they could finish 2011 propping up national league west division.

From the outset Lichfield were positive and created a number of early chances. However, against the run of play, the away side silenced the home crowd.

To Lichfield's credit, they refused to roll over and continued to exert pressure on Whitchurch's back four and the home side got their just deserts in the 38th minute as Webb outfoxed the Whitchurch centre half and last year's top goalscorer squared the ball across the 'D' for Danny Campbell to slot home.

LICHFIELD MENS 4TH XI 2 BELPER 4THS 2

Against a strong Belper team, the 4ths started well and created a number of chances that they were unable to convert.

The defence look solid and at half time it was 0-0, but in the second half against the run of play Belper scored from a well-taken short corner. Lichfield responded and piled on the pressure which resulted in a goals from Phil Round and Ben Eastland. However Belper came back and scored again.

LOUGHBOROUGH TOWN 0 LICHFIELD MENS 2ND XI 6

In another outstanding display, Lichfield reversed a curse that had seen them go 37 years without a victory in Loughborough. Goals from Humphries, Rogers, Billingham, Parker and two for Bailey, along with a satisfying clean sheet meant that Lichfield stretched their gap in the promotion places in 2nd XI Midlands Division 1 to two points, thanks to the University of Warwick's victory against Stourport. Jamie Ward was the scorer as Lichfield Men's 7th drew 1-1 with Sutton 9ths.

OLTON & WEST WARWICKS LADIES 1ST XI 2

Both these teams had only lost once this term with Olton just below Lichfield in the league.

After a goalless first half, Jessica Taylor Tibbott gave Lichfield the lead, and after a deflected effort gave Olton the equaliser. Jaz Vernon stroked home the winner.

BLOXWICH 4THS 0 LICHFIELD LADIES 5TH XI 11

Hattie Wright saved one shot while the rest of the team had a bonanza. Eden Gray scored her first of four goals with her first touch of the ball. Other scorers included Lisa Sutcliffe, Natalie Lawrence and player of the match Katie Nash.

HEATH HAYES

Haseley is the hero with brace

HEATH HAYES 4 DUNKIRK 1

HAYES got back to winning ways with this convincing victory against Nottingham side Dunkirk.

Simon Davies' side soon settled into a good rhythm and took an eighth minute lead when debutant keeper Jamie Hound-Lee was deceived by Andre Gonzales' shot. The visitors were unlucky when Rob McCormick and Danny Garmston both hit the woodwork in quick succession but Hayes should have increased their lead when Craig Hancox set up Gonzales but the young winger wanted to much time and the danger was cleared.

Two quick goals at the start of the second half put Hayes in control, the first from Ben Haseley and then from Joe McNulty.

On 80 minutes the visitors were handed a lifeline when a rash challenge from Andrew Tuck sent Leon White sprawling in the box and Luke Day made no mistake with the resulting penalty. However the home crowd's anxiety was eased five minutes later when Haseley grabbed his second and his side's fourth.

Depleted Hayes hit at death

HEATH HAYES 2 KIRBY MUXLOE 3

INJURY-hit Hayes were desperately unlucky to concede defeat with the last kick of the game in this keenly-fought Midlands Alliance duel.

Hayes, with four teenagers in the side, had the advantage of a strong wind and made the early running but saw several gilt-edged chances go begging.

On 36 minutes they made the breakthrough as Ben Haseley volleyed home a Craig Hancox cross.

Hayes received a cruel blow on the hour. Tom Hills' corner drifted in the wind and it looked as if Andre Gonzales had headed clear but the linesman signalled a goal. Hayes came back and from Hancox's 25-yard free-kick Dave Waple headed home.

Stuart Verrall fired home a 25-yard equaliser before Muxloe keeper Tom Holyoak was sent off for striking Haseley. The game was restarted with an indirect free kick in the penalty area which came to nothing.

In a last-gasp breakaway Tom Hill took advantage of a mix-up and his lob sailed over the keeper then rolled agonisingly into the net.

Soroptimists Trish Mellor and Dawn Jacobs-Clutton with Hednesford Town players Dan Crane and Pedro Monteiro

Players keen to support 'Real Man' pledge

HEDNESFORD Town players have joined with Premiership footballers, leading actors and pop stars by pledging their support to a campaign against domestic violence.

The "Real Man" pledge is part of a national campaign by the charity Women's Aid.

The leading women's service organisation Soroptimist International is spearheading the campaign locally, working closely with the Staffordshire Alliance against Domestic and Sexual Abuse.

Soroptimist Trish Mellor said the purpose of the campaign was to address a largely male environment such as a football club.

"While most men do not condone domestic violence, we want them to go further and take the positive step of signing our pledge and standing up and being counted on this issue," she said. "At a local level we think the Pitmen have an influence as role models for young men and we are delighted with their willingness to support the campaign."

On Saturday (December 3), the club will prove they are Real Men by bringing the campaign to the fore.

Hednesford Town FC club secretary, Terry McMahon confirmed that at the Pitmen's home match against Ashton United, both teams would wear arm-bands to show their support for the campaign and supporters will be given the opportunity to sign the pledge.

He added: "It's important for a community and family club such as Hednesford not to shy away from social issues such as we're glad that Soroptimists have given us a chance to support this campaign."

Soroptimists and the Staffordshire Alliance (Women's Aid, Pathway and Arch), will be asking spectators to sign the 'I'm a Real Man' pledge. The signatures will be presented to the Government to encourage them to see that the issue is as important to men as it is to women.

There will be information available concerning Pathway and Arch - both projects working locally with victims of domestic violence.

Cannock SI president Eileen Cryer said she and the club were delighted that Hednesford Town was supporting the campaign in such a positive way and they hope that all of the football supporters on the day will sign up.

For those not able to be at the match it's possible to sign the pledge online at www.realmancampaign.com/sign-the-pledge

Teesdale sees red in big loss

CHASSETOWN 0 BRADFORD PARK AVENUE 4, EVO-STIK NORTHERN PREMIER LEAGUE

PLAY-OFF contenders Bradford Park Avenue outplayed 10-man Chasetown en route to a 4-0 victory at the Scholars Ground on Saturday.

Things got off to a bad start for the Scholars when Richard Teesdale missed a clearance from a throw-in moments after kick-off and Avenue skipper Rob O'Brien nodded home to give the visitors the lead after only 45 seconds.

This put the hosts on the back foot from the off. Dean Perrow attempted to recover the deficit after six minutes when he picked up Lee Wright's cross but he tried to turn and shoot in one move and his shot went wide.

Bradford remained on top with O'Brien and Aiden Savory leading the attack while Nicky Boshell was in fine form down the wing.

With 27 minutes on the clock, Matt James tried to intercept a back pass, and Teesdale, trying to halt him, could only succeed in bringing the Avenue forward down. The Scholars skipper was shown the red card and O'Brien sent Ryan Price the wrong way from the spot for his and Bradford's second goal.

Bradford made the extra man count over the opening minutes of the second half but it was Chasetown who had the first chance when Danny Smith beat two men to force a throw-in which set up Farmer, but his effort was cleared.

The play continued in end-to-end fashion but Avenue looked the stronger each time and Price was again kept busy. Perrow worked well in partnership with Mark Hands, but his clearest chance went wide of the post after beating keeper John Lamb.

Chasetown showed brief signs of turning things round with some decent crosses from Mark Branch and Kingsley James, but on 77 minutes Bradford increased their lead further when a shot from Michael Duckworth bounced back to Jordan Dacey who fired past Price.

With six minutes to go a long ball from the Scholars defence failed to reach its target of Branch and substitute Tom Greaves ran in to intercept and slotted the ball past Price for Avenue's fourth.

On Saturday, Chasetown travel to Frickley Athletic for a league game. Kick-off is at 3pm.

Perrow grabs last-ditch winner

MICKLEOVER SPORTS 2 CHASSETOWN 3 - EVO-STIK NORTHERN PREMIER LEAGUE

IT'S NEVER over until the final whistle blows and Dean Perrow proved just that as he snatched a dramatic 95th-minute winner at Mickleover Sports last Wednesday night.

Chasetown took the lead on 36 minutes when Jimmy Turner was allowed to fire home from close range. On 40 minutes the lead was doubled as Perrow fired home.

Seconds later Perrow's shot bounced back off the upright and back into Clarke's arms.

The hosts pulled one back on 64 minutes when Eric Graves crossed from the left under pressure and former Scholar Alex Steadman fired beyond debutant Haydn Whitcombe.

With eight minutes to go the scores were level when a free kick from the left was played on to Graves in front of goal and he just managed to connect to find the net at the far post.

Deep into added time, the ball was played back to Perrow in space on the left and he rifled a shot past the stranded Clarke to give Chasetown a superb victory.

STOCKSBRIDGE PARK STEELS 4 HEDNESFORD TOWN 0 - EVO-STIK NORTHERN PREMIER DIVISION

PRE-GAME favourites Hednesford saw the footballing gods strike them down on a stormy day in South Yorkshire.

The Pitmen had won the last seven straight league matches, including a superb, season-defining victory against Chorley last weekend - and a victory here would have seen them close the gap at the summit of the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division to just one point.

Despite initially struggling on a greasy pitch in squally showers, they dominated the opening period in terms of possession. Elliott Durrell and Darren Campion shot wide from distance and Mark Danks initially looked like scampering clear of the defence before failing to capitalise with a heavy second touch. The home side, struggling at the bottom of the league, threatened only intermittently with a run of corners which culminated in Richard Haigh heading over.

The game turned on its head after 35 minutes as Jack Muldoon outpaced Pedro Monteiro and, as goalkeeper Dan Crane rushed out to close the angle, the striker's split-second hesitation meant the Hednesford goalkeeper made a superb block outside of his area with his hand.

The referee had no option but to show a red card and Rob Smith's side were left without a substitute goalkeeper to deputise.

Left-back Campion stepped in to take the gloves and from that point on the loyal Pitmen supporters could only look on in dread at what was very likely to unfold.

To their credit, the Pitmen were the better side until the half time break and were very much in the game until the 54th minute when they switched off in defence, looked for an offside flag which never came, and allowed Brian Cusworth space to slot the ball past Campion.

Stocksbridge's lead was doubled eight minutes later when a slick passing move saw a wicked cross whipped in from the right and despite Campion reacting well he diverted the ball into Cusworth to bundle the ball into the net.

The second goal effectively ended the game as a contest and despite the introduction of Marvin Robinson and Nick Wellecome, Hednesford struggled to make up the one man deficit.

Youth prospect Lewis Suckling was given his first-team debut for the away side before, as frustrations boiled over, Robinson saw red for dissent.

The nine men of Hednesford struggled to bridge the eleven goal gap in numbers on an increasingly heavy pitch and Jack Muldoon and Mark Ward added two further goals in stoppage time to pile on the misery for Rob Smith's side.

Despite this freakish setback Hednesford still sit in third place on 41 points, four behind joint-leaders Chester and Northwich Victoria with two games in hand.

They were due travel to bogey team Matlock Town last night (Wednesday) before welcoming Ashton United to Keys Park on Saturday (December 3).
